MADRID, Oct. 28.—The Socialist government tonight claimed "the most marked triumph" since the Spanish civil war began with the bombing of the insurgent airports at Seville, Granada and Caceres.

Official reports said a government squadron looted a deadly rain of 225-pound bombs on Tabalada airfield, Seville, destroying five Junkers bombers on the landing ground and near-by hangars where "planes were being repaired and where those recently delivered from foreign countries were being assembled."

Secretary Says G. O. P. Candidate Beckoning Country to Communism.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Governor Alfred M. Landon was pictured by Secretary Harold I. Ickes tonight as a "political Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" who beckoned the country toward Communism or Fascism.

"We know that Candidate Landon's proposed reaction to the present can be read to Communism or Fascism," the speech, which was broadcast, was delivered under the auspices of the Progressive National Committee shortly after Governor Landon rode into New York on his final campaign drive.

New York especially would welcome an elaboration of Mr. Landon's stand against monopolies and special privilege, Ickes said, adding:

"I know of no more fitting place for Jack the Monopoly Killer to do his stuff."

"State Socialists," Ickes sought to depict the Republican reaction to the present can be read to Communism or Fascism.

F. D. R. REDEDICATES U. S. TO MAINTAIN FREEDOM, PEACE

Sound Housing Policy for Crowded Sections of America Is Urged by President in 2d Speech.

Text of Addresses in Page 12.
By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt stood today in the shadow of the Statue of Liberty and, as President instead of a candidate, re-dedicated the nation "to carry forward American freedom and American peace."

Soon afterward, speaking to thousands who live in the crowded lower east side of Manhattan, he picked up the political banner which he had dropped for the moment and promised a "sound housing policy" if the New Deal is returned to office.

From a tremendous morning oration on a motor tour of three New York boroughs, the President rode by ferry to Tiny Bedloe's island in New York harbor to speak during ceremonies commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the towering Goddess of Liberty.

They were Franco-American ceremonies because half a century ago the people of France gave the world-renowned statue to America as a symbol of international friendship and good will.

President Lebrun, of France, took part by short wave radio while his ambassador to Washington, Andre Laboulaye, represented France in person. The statue was the vision originally of the ambassador's grandfathers.

Today, Mr. Roosevelt said, the symbol of liberty lightening the world should be broadened.

To the message of liberty which America sends to all the world, he said, must be added her message of peace.

A moment later he added: "We do."

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Governor Alf M. Landon capped a tumultuous New York city reception tonight by a conference with Alfred E. Smith.

Smith, anti-New Dealer who is stumping for the Kansan, said a surprise call much earlier than expected, and spent half an hour with the Republican nominee.

Behind closed doors, Smith talked with the man contesting for the presidency with Franklin D. Boy's Father Parts Amnesia's Misty Curtain

"Don't you know me, Dwight?" asks James E. Saunders, left, father of the 18-year-old amnesia victim who walked in the police station here Sunday night and requested detectives to help him determine who he was. Later yesterday, Dwight recognized his father, who had arrived by train from Fort Worth earlier in the day to take the boy home. Before they left Atlanta, the boy's brain began to clear and he recalled other things about his personal history. Staff photo by George Cornett.

Young Texan Begins Recovery of Memory Before Leaving With Father

By LEE ROGERS.
Dwight Saunders, 18-year-old amnesia victim who walked into the police station here Sunday night and asked "Who am I?" yesterday afternoon, after hours of questioning, recognized his father, James E. Saunders, Fort Worth businessman, who arrived at noon yesterday to take the boy home.

When the father spoke of a fishing trip on Lake Dallas on which 28 fish were caught by the two, a light of recognition flashed in Dwight's eyes and a smile lit his face.

"I remember you. You are my father," the boy said.

The elder Saunders arrived in Atlanta from Fort Worth at 12:45 o'clock yesterday and went directly to the police station, where his son was being held pending his arrival.

"Don't you know me, Dwight?" the father asked as he walked up, understanding to study the boy's face and his arms around his long-missing father.

"I'm sorry, but I don't," Dwight answered, visibly concentrating to the utmost.

The father clutched his son tight in his arms and two large tears rolled down his cheeks.

"Easy, dad, easy," the boy said, understanding to study the father's face and his arms around his long-missing father.

CLOSING SESSION OF GARDEN SCHOOL TO BE HELD TODAY

Mrs. Crown Will Discuss Wild Flowers; Comprehensive Exhibit To Be Feature of Final Class.

By ANNIE LOU HARDY.
Constitution Staff Writer.
School days demanded a new and happier interpretation yesterday as hundreds of Atlanta women flocked to the Atlanta Woman's Club for the second-day session of The Constitution's fall garden school.

Unlike the relentless school routine you probably remember, Mrs. Fletcher Pearson Crown, who conducts the garden school, has turned her classes to such pleasurable and profitable account.

Not a seed is left unturned in the garden, and the age-old rule is reversed. For Mrs. Crown's pupils applaud her school instead of playing hooky.

For today's session, Mrs. Crown has chosen a subject that has gained vastly in interest and popularity in recent years. She will instruct in the choice and planting of wild flowers, their care and arrangement, concluding with this lesson the series of informative lectures that have intrigued and pleased the packed houses that have greeted her since the school began.

A comprehensive exhibit of native wild flowers will serve as an illustrative feature in connection with the lecture on the subject.

Mrs. Eugene Harrington, who performs the creditable task of editing "Garden Gateways," the official publication of the Garden Club of Georgia, will preside as the day's hostess and will present the speaker.

In her introduction of Mrs. Crown to yesterday's audience, Mrs. Muellock Egan, gracious president of the Garden Club, said:

Contract Letting Delayed as Heck And Wilburn Split

Governor Reported Giving Tacit Support to Former as McRae Lines Up With Chairman on Transaction of $500,000.

PRINCIPALS SILENT ON 'BREAK' REPORTS

Attorney General Directed To Prepare Answer to Suit To Enjoin Giving of Equipment Order

By L. A. FARRELL.
Beaten by its foes in the recent primary election, the Talmadge organization appeared to be on the verge of civil warfare yesterday when it was learned a definite split had developed among members of the State Highway Board.

Whether it was a result of the breach or not could not be learned, but a $1,000,000 contract letting scheduled for November 13 has been postponed until November 20 and maybe later.

The break, it was learned, was caused by the recent proposed $500,000 purchase of highway machinery which has been enjoined by the courts, Chairman W. E. Wilburn and Commissioner John Heck reaching swords points, with Commissioner Max L. McRae lining up with the chairman.

None of the principals in the controversy, the first of any importance within the Talmadge ranks in several years, would talk on the situation, but indications were Governor Talmadge is giving tacit, if not active, support to Heck, against Wilburn.

The board chairman and the Governor are distant cousins.

May Cancel Deal.
In some quarters it was believed the row would result in the complete cancellation of the highway machinery deal now pending. Whether a new purchasing program would be developed in the event of cancellation of the present plan which the courts have enjoined could not be learned. Some reports had it the difference between Wilburn and Heck have reached such a point they no longer speak.

Heck is understood to have insisted the $500,000 be divided share and share alike among dealers who have been friendly to the outgoing administration and Wilburn, aided by McRae, is understood to have insisted that it go entirely to a Savannah concern, whose bids D. B. Blacklock of the Blacklock Machinery & Equipment Company, who obtained a court order

Address System Cut To Block F. D. R. Speech

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—James A. Berner, engineer in charge of a public address system at the cornerstone laying ceremonies attended by President Roosevelt at Brooklyn College today, said that the President's address was lost to the crowd because a cable was cut just before the President was introduced.

Berner said the cable line showed a clean knife cut. It was found underneath the speaker's stand soon after the system went dead after working for an hour without interruption. The engineer said restlessness among the crowd was caused by inability to hear the President speak.

34 AMERICANS TO GET SWEEPSTAKES SHARE

Nine Tickets Are Worth $75,000 Each to Lucky Holders in This Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The wheel of fortune spun dizzily in the nineteenth Irish Hospitals' sweepstakes today and left more than 30 winning ticketholders in the United States contemplating the heady vision of sudden riches.

Nine tickets, worth $150,000 each, were held in this country on Dan Bulger; six tickets, carrying prizes of $75,000 each, on the place horse, Daytona, and seven on Laura's II, which ran third. Stubs on the show horse were worth $50,000 apiece.

Because some of the tickets were held jointly by more than one person, at least 34 Americans will share in the $2,160,000 total.

The winners: On Dan Bulger—Charles and Frank Kraneff, brothers, Quincy, Mass.; "North," Northend, Ohio; Carl J. Nelson, Philadelphia machinist; James Short, Portage, Pa.; Margaret Conner, Brooklyn; Mrs. Perry H. Hooker, West Durham, N. C.; ten women employed in an Edgewater, N. J., dry cleaning plant; Nick Daras and Joseph Butler, San Francisco; William Schriener, Syracuse, N. Y.

On Daytona—P. Ryan, Chicago; Cecilia Jillon, Providence, R. I.; Anna Rihl, Rumson, N. J.; A. I. Goldberg and his sister, Mrs. Ray Kaplan, Brooklyn; Herman Moses, Brooklyn, and Mrs. Sarah Ellenberg, the Bronx.

On Laura's II—John Thermo, Cicero, Ill.; Dorothy Reid, New York; August C. Krieger, Union City, N. J.; A. M. Schutman, Baton Rouge, La.; Mrs. Hazel Stark, Pittsburgh; Tullio Franciotti, New York, and George Corrado, New York.

The youngest of the winners appeared to be 16-year-old Jimmy Short, of Portage, Pa., who yelled "hot dog" when he learned he had won $150,000. His mother, a widow, said she would pay the taxes on her home and decide later what to do with the rest of the money.

Italy, Portugal Acquitted of Charges of Violating Non-Intervention Pact

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The international "hand-off Spain" committee tonight acquitted both Italy and Portugal of charges of violation of the non-intervention agreement despite strenuous Russian objections.

Three separate votes on the various charges were taken and in each case the "acquittal" was unanimous except for Russia's vigorous dissent.

Lord Plymouth, British chairman of the committee, took the initiative before the body and said the charges against Italy that she had supplied arms and munitions to Spanish Fascists, either:

1. Referred to what happened before the agreement went into effect; or

2. Had not been proved; or

3. Were not violations.

The three votes were taken on:

1. Italy's reply to charges by Russia she had supplied war materials to the insurgents in Spain;

2. Charges by the Socialist Spanish government against Portugal that she had aided the insurgents;

3. Russian allegations charging both Portugal and Italy with sending in arms and ammunition.

'Wally' and King To See Each Other Less in Public in Next Six Months

By HARRY L. PERCY. (Copyright, 1936, by United Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson and King Edward VIII will not be seen together in public so frequently during the next six months, as has been their custom.

Court circles said tonight that since the law requires that Mrs. Simpson lead an exemplary life during the period between her divorce nisi, granted at Ipswich yesterday and an absolute divorce from Ernest A. Simpson, the king will do nothing to embarrass her position.

In ordinary divorce cases, if anyone complains to the king's protector, with sufficiently substantial evidence, he can intervene and secure annulment of the accused person's divorce, if the evidence is proved.

While conceivably the protector could step in if "Wally" Simpson overstepped the bounds of propriety, nobody believes he would if the king were connected with her transgressions.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Simpson must be extremely circumspect during the next six months because of the glare of publicity beating on her.

Evidence of the manner in which Mrs. Simpson and King Edward apparently intend to conduct themselves during the next six months was given today when "Wally" remained in her palatial Cumberland terrace home although the king had what was termed officially a "light day" at Buckingham Palace scarcely three miles away.

It is almost certain that the couple have not met since her preliminary decree was granted yesterday, but it was understood they telephoned each other frequently last night and today.

The husband in the case—a home-loving Londoner educated at Harvard—it was understood, telephoned "Wally" last night and asked that they remain good friends.

The Ipswich court, on testimony of Mrs. Simpson and two hotel waiters, found Simpson guilty of adultery in a Bray hotel with a woman identified only as "Miss Kennedy."

It is believed in the small circle of Englishmen who know of the divorce that Mrs. Simpson and the king will remain good friends and will not marry. That was the impression she herself gave last night.

2. Charges by the Socialist Spanish government against Portugal that she had aided the insurgents;

3. Russian allegations charging both Portugal and Italy with sending in arms and ammunition.

These developments within the committee in its lengthy session today were disclosed in a communique issued before midnight.

The communique also disclosed that the Portuguese representative on the committee declined to accept Russia's proposal for control of Portuguese ports by naval vessels of one or more of the member nations of the committee.

Maisky, Russian ambassador to London, told the committee Russia would combine its control proposal with a proposal made today by Lord Plymouth for control of Spanish ports and frontiers to see that the non-intervention agreement was observed.

These proposals, the communique said, will be referred back by the various diplomats on the committee to their home governments.

German and Italian representatives insisted they were anxious to make the agreement effective and indicated that their governments would approve but they said the proposals must be studied.

Charles Corbin, French ambassador to London, said that France was willing to accept anything that would make the agreement effective.

poses to buy is the first purchased by the department since Wilburn became chairman more than three years ago.

During that time the department has bought only parts for the equipment it had on hand and in several widely scattered instances a new piece of machinery. The deal represents one of the largest single similar transactions in the history of the department.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Governor Apathetic.

Just how far the war will go remains problematical. Defeated and ready to retire to private life for the time being at least, Governor Talmadge is showing little public interest in the controversy although what interest he has shown, it is said, is toward Heck's side.

Yesterday the Governor directed Attorney General M. J. Yeomans to file an answer to the Blalock suit which is set for a hearing before Superior Judge J. H. Hawkins at Marietta November 28, but if the board should decide to cancel the impending deal the resultant litigation naturally would be dropped as the question to be decided would be moot.

Although Blalock is not listed among the group of machinery dealers who have been close to the Tamadge organization, it was learned yesterday some of those who are will support his petition because they oppose the placing of such a large contract with the Savannah concern which, until recently, did not engage in the machinery business.

Says Machines Obsolete.

Blalock also claimed the machinery the board had agreed to buy before he obtained the injunction is obsolete and will be of little value to the highway department if obtained.

The machinery which the board pro-

GOERING SAYS REICH NEEDS RAW MATERIALS

Promises Germany Will Break Foreign Economic Fist Finger by Finger.

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Air Minister General Hermann Wilhelm Goering tonight declared Germany would "break off, finger by finger, the foreign fist" which seeks to throttle the Reich's economic development.

Speaking as the head of Chancellor Hitler's announced four-year plan for economic rehabilitation, Goering declared foreign critics of the project to make Germany independent of foreign raw materials. Goering said:

"They seem to think it's a plan for Germany to want a share of the world's raw materials. Of course we want a share and will get a share, too."

"The world should be thankful we are trying to get it peacefully."

"We have to do it because at the end of the war they stole our colonies from us."

Goering said he had undertaken leadership of Hitler's project, "not as an economic expert, nor as a great industrialist, but as a person of unbending will."

He threatened profiteers and hoarders with the sternest reprisals, saying they would be "treated unmercifully as swindlers and thieves."

"If you don't like my decrees go ahead and call me crazy," he thundered, "just as long as you carry them out."

"You're always talking about freedom of enterprise—well here's a chance for free initiative to get busy."

The entire Nazi cabinet with the exception of Hitler was present during the speech.

Atlanta Grocers Offer HALLOWEEN SPECIAL—Washington State Apples

New-crop Delicious and Jonathans from world-famous orchards... now featured throughout this area

They're special values now... and marvelous to eat. These are the new crop, fresh picked, rushed here at their peak of goodness.

You've a treat coming when you take your first bite of one of these Washington Jonathans or Delicious. They fairly burst with juice. Taste crisper. Far richer in flavor.

It's because Washington apples are grown in irrigated volcanic ash soil that supplies the mineral riches apples need. And because Washington growers allow only the finest fruit to mature on the trees.

The finest apples grown come to you from Washington. Each is picked by gloved hands, each carefully washed, wrapped in protective tissue. Inspected and passed by authorities of the State of Washington itself.

Come get them at your grocer's—these "picture apples" so grand for Halloween games and display. And so extra fine to eat! Washington State Apples, Inc. Offices in Yakima and Wenatchee, Washington.

WASHINGTON STATE IS FAMOUS FOR Jonathans, Delicious, Rome Beauties, Stayman, Spitzenbergs, Winesaps, Newtowns—each of these varieties will be available to you at its peak of perfection

Atlanta Named as One of 10 Cities For Federal Educational Forums

City Board Will Sponsor Government-Financed Five-Month Program, Beginning February 1; Many Leading Authorities Will Be Heard Here.

Educational forums, under the sponsorship of the United States Office of Education, will begin in Atlanta February 1, it was decided yesterday at a special meeting of the Atlanta Board of Education.

This city thus will become one of 10 cities of the United States to have the benefit of the program. The federal government will expend $36,500 during the five months' duration of the forum discussions here, and leading authorities on various subjects from all parts of the nation will appear.

Details of the program, its scope and the subjects to be treated, as well as selections of the speakers, will await evolution of the local plan. Atlanta's Board of Education, working jointly with a citizens' commission, which it will designate, will be in sole charge of the forum plans, under the agreement, and will have complete supervision of the subject matter to be treated.

Dr. Willis A. Sutton, school superintendent, was designated as projects supervisor, and H. Reid Hunter, assistant school superintendent, in charge of high schools, told board members Atlanta was designated as one of the cities only because of the efforts of the school board.

The board will not bear any expense in connection with the enterprise except to provide meeting places which, probably, will be in various junior high school auditoriums. The budget contained in the proposal sent to Atlanta under the direction of Dr. J. W. Studebaker, commissioner of education and national administrator of the forums, provides $9,000 as salary for four forum leaders; $24,000 for other personnel, to be drawn from relief rolls, and $3,500 for contingencies.

Under the proposal, which the board accepted with but one dissenting vote, the forums will be launched here beginning February 1, and will continue through June 30.

The purpose of the forums will be to further adult civic education and to aid adults in obtaining a broader conception of various current affairs, it was said.

OFFICIALS DOUBT BALLOT LEGALITY

Many Ordinaries To Omit Pension Amendment From Ticket.

By The Associated Press. Expressions of doubt as to the legality of voting on the Talmadge-revised old-age pension amendment on ballots for the November 3 general election came from several county ordinaries yesterday with some to omit the amendment from the ballot and others undecided.

Ordinary Leslie Clark, of Jessup, Wayne county, said he had decided not to put the amendment on the ballot "and put the county to that extra expense."

"Practically all I have talked to say that no matter which way the voting would go it would not have legal bearing on the matter," Clark said.

Ordinary J. E. Butler, of Irwin, Wilkes county, was undecided. "I am having the ballots printed," he said, "but I am undecided as to whether stickers bearing the old-age pension proposal will be used or not."

E. Lloyd Lewis, of Greensboro, Ordinary of Greene county, said he had been inclined to place the amendment on the ballot but decided to leave it off.

Expressing the opinion placing of the amendment on the ballot would have "no legal effect," Judge Brock, Whitfield county ordinary, said he would not include it on the ballot, because the state supreme court "has already ruled that only the Governor has authority to place the amendment on the ballot" and the Governor has refused to do this.

Judge Frank E. Gabels, of Clarksville, Habersham county ordinary, said there seemed to be a "decidedly favorable" sentiment in his section for the pension plan, but that he would not include it on the ballot, because he said it was the consensus of officials the amendment, if passed, "would have to pass the next legislature in order to be legalized."

Named Tehisean Editor

NEWMAN LOZIER.

LOZIER NAMED EDITOR OF TECH HIGH ANNUAL. Newman Lozier, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Lozier, of 516 Clifton road, has been named editor of the Tehisean, Tech High school annual, C. L. Bird, faculty adviser of the annual, announced yesterday.

Lozier is an outstanding member of the senior class and won the appointment over 20 boys who stood a competitive examination for the post. He is a member of the debating team, president of the Phi Delta Literary Society and a participant in the annual exercises of the school during his freshman and junior years. He has been cited on the honor roll five times.

AGNES SCOTT WINS YEARBOOK HONOR. The Silhouette, 1936 yearbook of Agnes Scott College, has been awarded first-class honor rating for schools with an enrollment of over 500, it was announced yesterday by the National Scholastic Press Association.

The association judges the yearbooks on the following points: Plan, editing, make-up, general effect, financial status and mechanical consideration.

Miss Varton Jackson, of Charlotte, N. C., editor of the 1937 Silhouette and Miss Mary Gillespie, of 2818 Piedmont road, business manager, will leave this morning for Louisville, Ky., to represent the Silhouette at the annual meeting of the National Scholastic Press Association, October 29-30.

COLLEGES TO HOLD TRIANGLE DEBATES. Agnes Scott, Emory and Tech To Argue Party Merits Tomorrow Night.

Debateurs from Agnes Scott College, Emory University and Georgia Tech will engage in a political triangle debate at 8 o'clock tomorrow night on each of the three campuses. Representatives of each school will argue the relative merits of the Democratic, Republican and Socialist platforms and their candidates.

The debate at Agnes Scott College will be held in the chapel under the sponsorship of Alpha Phi, debating society. Discussion and questions will follow the debate, it was announced.

At Emory, the debate will be held in the auditorium and Charles S. Reid, chairman of the state Democratic committee, will preside. The debate at Tech will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on the campus.

CLOUDY AND COOLER FORECAST FOR TODAY. Still lower temperatures are promised Atlanta today, with a continuance of the cloudy skies and raw air that set the season's record for cold weather yesterday. The forecast for virtually all the remainder of the state was for generally fair skies, but continued cool weather.

The lowest mark for the mercury yesterday was 44 degrees and during the day it climbed no higher than 56 degrees.

This morning 42-degree weather will greet Atlantans when they awake and the outlook during the day is for 60 degrees or slightly under that.

ATLANTAN RENAMED TO BAR COMMITTEE. Charles S. Reid, Atlanta attorney, yesterday was renamed to the commercial law and bankruptcy committee of the American Bar Association. Frederick H. Stinchfield, of Minneapolis, president of the association, announced the appointment.

Mr. Reid is chairman of the state Democratic executive committee and a prominent civic leader. Judge A. B. Lovett, of Savannah, another well-known Democrat and Roosevelt leader, was named to the jurisprudence and law reform committee. Eleven southerners were appointed to these and other important committees of the association.

TO HEAD COLLEGE. NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—The electoral college of the New York Lutheran pastoral conference today picked from a group of 17 nominees Dr. Oscar Carl Kreinheder, president of Valparaiso (Ind.) University, to be its president for the coming year. Dr. Kreinheder is a Lutheran minister at Bronxville, N. Y.

OPERATOR OF BUFFET FIGHTS CLOSING ORDER

McKown Appeals to Courts Against City Council's Action.

C. A. McKown operator of the West End Buffet, 631 Peoples street, S. W., yesterday asked the courts to decide whether he should be forced to close his doors or refrain from selling wines and beer.

Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, granted a temporary injunction preventing Police Chief T. O. Sturdivant, officers of the police department or any officers from enforcing a council mandate revoking McKown's permit to make sales and made the prayer for a permanent injunction returnable to his court Friday.

City council voted to revoke McKown's permit after the public safety committee recommended it, and the measure went to Mayor Key for his action. McKown appeared before Key and agreed he would close at 11 o'clock at night, that he would eliminate curb service and would rearrange his ventilation system to obviate the expulsion of obnoxious odors on the premises of his neighbors.

Key then vetoed the resolution revoking his permit, but council at its October 19 meeting overrode Key's veto and decreed McKown could not sell wine and beer any more.

The petition for the injunction was filed yesterday by Noah J. Stone, attorney representing McKown.

White Women Exceed White Men In Dry Law Arrests, Survey Shows

Liquor law violations accounted for 22.9 per cent of the criminal cases in superior and city courts in 29 representative Georgia counties during the last decade, according to records revealed by the survey of criminal procedure, now being completed by the Works Progress Administration under the sponsorship of the Department of Public Welfare.

The findings were made public yesterday by Miss Gay B. Shepperson, in announcing the results of some phases of the survey.

A breakdown of 52,846 cases involving the making or sale of liquor showed that 15,033 white women were charged with dry law violations and committed to jail in the counties investigated. During the same period 13,895 white men, 17,747 negro men, and 6,371 negro women were charged with similar offenses.

Violations of the prohibition law appeared more frequently on the records of these courts than any other crime.

The counties in which the study was made are Baker, Bibb, Bulloch, Carroll, Chatham, Chattooga, Cherokee, Clarke, Coweta, Crisp, DeKalb, Dodge, Floyd, Fulton, Glynn, Habersham, Houston, Liberty, Lowndes, McIntosh, Madison, Muscogee, Peach, Taliaferro, Taylor, Tift, Troup and Ware.

The survey involved the study of approximately 350,000 individual cases in city and superior courts, as well as those before the appellate courts and the prison commission. Records were obtained not only from the courts but from sheriff's dockets. Efforts were made to trace the complete history of each case from its inception, whether by committing magistrate or indictment, to final disposition. The survey was intended to develop the facts as they existed. When completed it will present a word picture of the frequency and repetition of crime, varying degrees of punishment and the relationship of crime to age, sex and race.

Separate expositions of each felony and misdemeanor punishable under Georgia law are being made and will be shown according to the frequency with which they occur and the age groups of the persons involved.

DEBATE ON LIMITATION WILL BE HELD TONIGHT. The 15-mill tax limitation amendment will be discussed at an open forum at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Samuel R. Young school, in College Park. The meeting is sponsored by the College Park Thirty Club, the College Park Woman's Club and the Parent-Teachers' Association of the town. The forum will consist of a 30-minute debate, followed by a 30-minute period of questions and answers. Frank Carter, former president of the Atlanta Bar Association, and Homer Gullatt, tax assessor of Fulton county, will be the debaters. Citizens of East Point and Hapeville also have been invited to attend the forum.

SURGEONS OF SOUTH TO MEET IN ATLANTA. Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, of Chicago, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to co-operate arrangements for the annual southern session of the American College of Surgeons to be held here February 3-5 and to be attended by approximately 800 surgeons from all sections of the south. He announced sessions will be held at the Biltmore hotel and that the program will include addresses at civic club meetings by famous surgeons. A public health meeting is to climax the session February 4.

MRS. HAL A. BOYNTON PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Sister of Georgia Tech President Had Been Ill for Some Time.

Mrs. Hal Arnold Boynton, 60, longtime resident of Atlanta and sister of Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, died yesterday morning at the residence, 209 Pine street, N. E. Mrs. Boynton had been in ill health for some time. She was a native of Wilkes county, and had lived in Atlanta many years. She was a member of the Second-Pence de Leon Baptist church.

Besides Dr. Brittain, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ralph A. Armstrong, and another brother, Dr. C. M. Brittain, of Jacksonville, prominent church official and since 1925 secretary and executive officer of the Baptist Board of Missions.

Final rites will be held at 2 o'clock (P. M.) this afternoon at the graveside in the family burial ground in Washington, Ga., cemetery, with the Rev. D. V. Cason, pastor of the Washington Baptist church, officiating. Mayor Luke Saver, of Washington, and five other friends will serve as pallbearers, and burial will be under direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

SCOUT CYCLIST KILLED. HAMMOND, La., Oct. 28. (AP)—A roving Boy Scout bicyclist, believed to be about 16 years of age and identified as Jack Charles Carson, of Houston, or Los Angeles, by letters which he carried, was accidentally knocked from his bicycle and killed on Highway 51 south of Tickfaw yesterday afternoon.

DEPOSIT INSURANCE SLOWS BANK FAILURES

Only Five Suspend Operations in Nearly 3 Years, Cocke Reports.

Georgia has seen only five commercial banks suspend operations since January 1, 1934, the date on which federal insurance of deposits became effective, according to a report yesterday by Eric Cocke, Georgia director of the National Emergency Council. The banks suspending operations were state institutions. Four of the banks, with deposits amounting to $430,000, were insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The fifth bank, holding deposits of $34,000, was not.

During the 12 years prior to the time the FDIC began to insure bank deposits, Cocke said, 467 commercial banks in Georgia were insured by the FDIC with total deposits amounting to $392,700,000. He declared it was estimated 99 per cent of the depositors in these banks are fully protected, since the majority of them have less than $5,000 in their accounts, the amount up to which the FDIC will insure deposits.

BOOKLET EXPLAINS HOME OWNERS' AID

Efforts of Federal Government to Prevent Foreclosures Detailed.

The work and purpose of four of the federal government's agencies for home owners' loans, saving and insurance, were summed up yesterday in a 32-page booklet issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. The booklet is available to the public. In the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, which, it is stated, "called into existence in June, 1933, to stem the flood of foreclosures which was swamping home owners, mortgage institutions and real estate values," a total of 1,021,818 loans have been made to home owners, involving advances of $3,093,424,244. According to the booklet, the number of homes saved for their owners is about equal to the number of homes in the cities of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Atlanta, Indianapolis and San Francisco combined.

The Federal Home Loan Bank system was explained as being created to provide a national reservoir of funds on which member institutions can borrow in much the same way that commercial banks can draw on the Federal Reserve System. The Federal Savings and Loan Association and its insurance corporation also are explained in detail in the booklet.

15-MILL TAX PLAN HIT BY EAST POINT LEGION

Opposition to the 15-mill tax amendment has been voiced in a resolution adopted by East Point Post No. 51, American Legion, it was announced last night by Preston Sumner, commander.

The resolution based its opposition on a "belief that passage of the amendment will seriously affect schools of the state, and would mean a certain increase in taxes." Copies of the resolutions were sent to all Legion posts in Georgia.

Worried Firemen Told To 'See Chief Parker'

"See Chief Parker." This will be the future instruction issued by a majority of the Atlanta Board of Firemasters when firemen visit them wanting an ear concerning unimportant departmental details, it was decided last night at the regular board meeting.

Members concurred in a suggestion of Parker that several firemen may be "worrying members with frivolous matters" and informally decided that such suggestions should be made to the chief.

A survey of every engine house will be undertaken within the next few days by the outgoing board, if plans proposed last night materialize. Several routine matters occupied the attention of the group.

EDUCATOR LAUNCHES PEACE CONFERENCE

Dr. S. C. Mitchell Raps 'Present Degradation of European Civilization.'

Dr. Samuel C. Mitchell, professor of history at the University of Richmond, addressed leaders of the Atlanta lay peace movement and ministers of several local churches yesterday at the Grace Methodist church, discussing mitigating circumstances, he asserted, are responsible for the "present degradation of European civilization."

The address formally opened the Atlanta peace conference. "Civilization is suffering now as never before in history," Dr. Mitchell said. "It is staggering under the blows of three major emergencies, each of which would have been enough to blight a whole century, but all of which have come within the past 29 years. First, the World War; second, a series of revolutions caused by dissatisfaction and inability to cope with changing times, and last, the worst economic depression of all time."

Sessions were directed by Dr. W. A. Shelton, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, and the Rev. Robert Burns, pastor of the Peachtree Christian church, introduced the speaker.

PACKERS' EMPLOYEES GRANTED PAY HIKE

About 475 Atlantans Will Receive Increase After November 2.

Approximately 475 employees of the White Provision Company in Atlanta will find their pay envelopes heavier each week after November 2 as a result of a 5 per cent pay increase adopted Tuesday for all the associated companies of the Swift Provision Company.

This means a total pay roll increase of slightly over $500 each week in this plant alone, it was announced. Wage increases were voted by the "big four" packing companies.

E. S. Papp, manager of the White company, in confirming the wage increase report, explained the assembly, composed of equal numbers of employee and management representatives, deals with all matters pertaining to labor and working conditions and decided living conditions justified the raise.

MURDER SUSPECT NAMED IN HOLDUP

Victim Identifies Alvin Ensley as One of Three Who Robbed Him.

One of five young men arrested in connection with the murder Sunday of George Ward, Macon highway roadhouse operator, was identified yesterday morning, according to police reports, as the youth who held up I. E. Gresham, of 922 Austin avenue, on the night of October 1.

2 MEN ARE INDICTED ON SHOOTING CHARGES

Bonds of $500 each were made yesterday by Edward Rohman, of Lee's Mill road, and James Clark, of a Crew street address, after they had been indicted by the Fulton grand jury on charges of shooting at an automobile occupied by college students during a wild chase through downtown Atlanta about midnight of October 17 and charges of carrying concealed weapons.

The men were arrested by police at the request of the students and were bound over by the recorder for grand jury action. Students in the pursued car were J. O. Shealy, Martha Head, Flora Lee, R. H. Fagan and Ben F. Gerding.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN DIES NEAR ELBERTON

ELBERTON, Ga., Oct. 28.—Funeral services for J. Ben Childs, 97, oldest man in Elberton county and a Confederate veteran, who died Monday at his home about 15 miles below here, were held yesterday, with interment at Bethel church.

Until last year, he never missed attending the Confederate veterans' reunion.

He was born in the house where Bishop Ashbury held the first Methodist conference in Georgia.

His wife and several children survive.

Busy Times Are These At Atlanta's Accredited School, Southern Business College

Enrollment of New Pupils—Graduates Going to Positions.

The week beginning November 2 will be the next enrollment period of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, 193 Peachtree street.

Prosperity is no longer "around the corner"—it is already in our midst and in great abundance.

Gladstone Young Men.

Last week five young men, just completing their courses at the Southern Business College, were sent by the Employment Department of the school to good and permanent positions. Many of the young lady pupils have likewise recently gone to work with important business firms.

Now Is the Time.

There never was, therefore, a better time to begin business training than the present. While business has made great gains during the last two years, it will continue to advance to greater heights after the presidential election, next Tuesday, regardless of the success of either political party. Hence, it behooves every young man and every young woman to start business training now in order to be ready at the earliest possible time to fill his or her place in the business world.

The Accredited School.

The Southern is Atlanta's only accredited business school, having been thoroughly investigated and accepted as a member of the National Association of Accredited Commercial Schools. This gives prestige to graduates when applying for positions.

Successful Students.

Successful students of the SOUTHERN, occupying the more responsible positions with every important Atlanta firm, induce enrollments at this distinctive school by those seeking an entrance to pleasant and lucrative employment.

Pleased patrons build big businesses.

The eighth pupil from the same family is now attending the SOUTHERN, the fifth from another, and many whose fathers or mothers attended in years gone by.

Southern at City Hall.

The heads of five important city departments at Atlanta City Hall are graduates of the SOUTHERN. Their business training was the "stepping-stone."

Thousands of Atlanta's merchants, bankers, lawyers, judges and reporters belong to the alumni of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, and through them the SOUTHERN receives new pupils continually.

Founded 60 years; thirty thousand graduates in positions; a large and cultured faculty; best systems extant; superb location; adequate equipment; the SOUTHERN is the school chosen by those who seek only the best in everything.

Good Advice.

Elbert Hubbard says, "The boy who enters college at 18 and is graduated at 22, wants to run his father's business when he comes home—but he will not wash windows. He has knowledge, but no dexterity—he has learning, but no competence. He owns a kit of tools but does not know how to use them. If his father's business is large, a place is made for him where he can do no damage, and he hypnotizes himself and deceives his friends with the fallacy that he is really doing something.

P. M. OXFORD, Field Manager of the Southern Shorthand and Business University.

Use and acquisition should go hand in hand. Knowledge is valueless until it is applied.

"Men are great only as they do things worth while. Knowledge not used, like anything else not used, is likely to be dangerous."

Do Your Duty.

Nobody else can live your life for you—and the kind of life you will be living 20 years in the future will be—most definitely—shaped by what you do today.

This fact ought to be self-evident, but if you need proof read the biographies of successful men and women. For in the language of Dr. Mursell, "Great men have been great because they treated their problems as challenges rather than as terrors."

The man of great accomplishment was not great from the start—but he was able to make himself great because he was a swift, able, determined learner.

MRS. LAMAR INDORSED FOR U. D. C. PRESIDENT

Georgia Session at Macon Asks Confederate Museum at Liberty Hall.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Delegates to the forty-first annual convention of the Georgia division, United Daughter of the Confederacy, today indorsed Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macon, for president general of the U. D. C. in 1937.

The motion for indorsement of Mrs. Lamar was presented before the convention by Mrs. N. Walter, of Macon, past president of the Georgia division, and Mrs. Lamar was enthusiastically indorsed by the delegates.

Mrs. Lamar, past president of the Georgia division, is now historical general of the U. D. C. She has been a leader in the United Daughters of the Confederacy for a number of years and is widely known throughout the state as a civic, educational, literary and religious leader. She is vice president of the Tallulah Falls Industrial school, and president of the Sidney Lanier Memorial Association, being author of several literary works on Lanier.

Routine business and committee reports occupied the session today.

The executive board reported it had indorsed a proposal that the state be asked to build a fireproof museum for Confederate relics at Liberty Hall, the home of Alexander Stephens, at Crawfordville.

W. G. Sutlive, editor of the Savannah Evening Press, and Kirk Sutlive, of Blackshear, president of the Georgia Press Association and editor of the Blackshear Times, were speakers at a press breakfast today.

Convention sessions are under the direction of Mrs. Frank A. Dennis, of Eatonton.

Tomorrow's program will include three business sessions, a luncheon at the Thomasville Country Club, and a tea. The John B. Gordon chapter, U. D. C., will be hostesses at the luncheon and Mrs. Charles Tillman, of Quitman, at the tea. The convention will close tomorrow night.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE OPENS AT SWAINSBORO

SWAINSBORO, Ga., Oct. 28.—The twenty-second session of the Augusta conference, held its formal opening today at St. Moriah A. M. E. church. Rev. R. Lee, pastor, and with Bishop W. A. Fountain, of Atlanta, presiding.

The annual sermon was preached by Rev. J. W. Means, of the Atlanta church, from the subject, "Suffering Is Essential To Success," from which he portrayed the suffering of Jesus and exhorted his hearers to bear suffering in the spirit of Christ.

Following the annual sermon, communion was administered by the bishop and the presiding elders, Dr. J. J. Johnson and A. P. Solomon.

The annual address of the bishop dealt with the successful results of the three conferences previously held this year. The bishop pleading with the ministers to lead sober lives as a panacea for all ills of the racial group.

The organization of the conference continued in these sessions: Chief secretary, Rev. L. B. Harris, with Rev. F. Durbelle and Rev. W. H. Morris, assistants; Dr. C. A. Wingfield, W. F. Sherman and David Norris, press reporters; Dr. E. Reese, treasurer; Dr. C. W. W. C. King and A. W. Kemp, marshals; Dr. J. H. Jones, chairman finance committee.

METHODISTS TO HOLD SESSION AT ROSSVILLE

ROSSVILLE, Ga., Oct. 28.—The Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will open here tomorrow at the Methodist Episcopal church, with Bishop Charles W. Flint, of Atlanta, presiding.

Rev. T. P. Cook, pastor of the Rossville church, is expecting about 45 pastors and 31 delegates from the 94 churches in the Georgia conference.

Among the ministers, who will address the conference are Dr. E. J. Hammond, of Atlanta, head of the church extension department, who will speak on the unification of the Methodist Episcopal church with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Protestant Methodist church, and Dr. Orville Davis, of Atlanta, who will speak on foreign missions.

MISS JOHNSON NAMED TREASURER IN WARREN

WARRENTON, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP) Ordinary J. C. Evans announced appointment of Miss Jewell Johnson as Warren county treasurer to fill the place made vacant by resignation of C. M. Smith.

Evans also called a special election for November 24 to choose a treasurer for a four-year term, and the county Democratic executive committee selected November 3, date of the general election, for a party primary.

STATE DEATHS

MRS. FRANCES DIDRICK.

ROME, Ga., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Frances Didrick, 32, passed away Monday night at her residence on the Kingston road, following an illness of 10 days with pneumonia. Mrs. Didrick moved to Rome from Palm Beach, Fla. in 1929.

Surviving Mrs. Didrick is her husband, Joe Didrick.

For the past seven years she has been a member of the South Broad Street Methodist church.

Funeral services were held this afternoon from the Mispah Methodist church with Rev. J. Foster Young, pastor of the South Broad Street Methodist church, officiating and interment was in the Pisgah cemetery.

MRS. A. H. SMITH.

JACKSON, Ga., Oct. 28.—Funeral services for Mrs. A. H. Smith, 81, who died yesterday morning at her home here, were held this morning from the residence with Rev. R. P. Etheridge, pastor of the Jackson Methodist church, officiating. Interment was in the Jackson cemetery.

Mrs. Smith was the wife of the late Hiram Smith. She was born and reared in Monroe county and was the daughter of Levi Willis Morrison and his wife, Mrs. J. W. Hansford Morrison. During the most of her married life she has resided in Jackson with the exception of a few years spent in Atlanta. She was widely known.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Helen Head; three grandchildren, R. A. Franklin Jr., Franklin and Miss Helen Head, all of Jackson; one great-grandchild, Martha Bort Franklin; one sister, Mrs. J. B. Settle, also of Jackson, and several nieces and nephews.

W. H. MINNISH.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 28.—W. H. Minnish, 70, formerly of Commerce, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Thurmon, here today. Mr. Minnish had been in failing health for the past three years.

Funeral services and interment will be held in Apple Valley, Jackson county.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lola Hutchins Minnish; a daughter, Mrs. Thurmon; son, Victor B. Minnish; Chattanooga; a sister, Mrs. J. W. Barnett, Commerce; two brothers, L. G. Minnish, of Commerce, and B. C. Minnish, of Nacoochee.

Mr. Minnish was born in Jackson county and spent most of his life in Commerce.

MRS. HASTINGS URGES SCHOOL FLOWER STUDY

800 Teachers Attend District Session of Educators at Elberton.

ELBERTON, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Teaching children to care for gardens will instill in them "a definite challenge to make the world a more beautiful place in which to live," Mrs. Donald Hastings, president of the Georgia Garden Clubs, said today.

"To be given the chance to study flowers," Mrs. Hastings, of Atlanta, told a regional meeting of the Georgia Educational Association, "to learn of their value in the scheme of the home and in the beautification of the world they live in to respect the property of others, to know and understand the values of nature conservation, should be the privilege of every child."

President J. Harold Saxon, of Quitman, presided at the tenth district session here, which was attended by 800 teachers.

After Mayor H. P. Hunter welcomed the association, addresses were made by Miss Annie Taylor, on the health programs in the schools; M. D. Collins, on equalizing of education, and Mrs. Hastings, on beauty in the educational program.

Secretary Ralph L. Ramsey, of G. E. A., introduced Dr. Thomas Alexander, president of New College, Columbia University, who spoke of some of the fundamental needs of the educational system.

He said we did not have enough real teachers, that our school and colleges were turning them out every year, but with only a knowledge of higher subjects and with little or no knowledge of the needs of the child. He blamed teacher training schools mostly because they fail to teach and train the fundamentals which are necessary for the child, and expressed the opinion "we would be better off if we had no such schools or colleges."

Dr. Meadow, of the University of Georgia, emphasized much of what Dr. Alexander had said but disapproved of some things. He said President H. W. Caldwell, of the University of Georgia, was an afternoon speaker. He was followed by Rush Burton, who spoke against the 15-mill tax limitation constitution amendment.

Clarkeville Attorney Succeeds Abit Nix at Macon Convention.

MACON, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Robert McMillan, Clarkeville attorney, became grand master of the Georgia Masonic Grand Lodge today, succeeding Abit Nix, of Athens.

In concluding their annual convocation, the Masons adopted the citizenship and school programs started during the Nix administration, as permanent objectives.

Other officers elected were John L. Travis, Savannah, deputy grand master; William M. Sapp, Dalton, senior grand warden; J. Wilson Parker, Fairburn, junior grand warden; Frank E. Baker, Macon, grand secretary, and F. C. Jones, Thomasville, grand treasurer. The latter two being re-elected.

The following officers, appointed, were advanced in station by the election group: M. Preston Agee, Augusta, senior grand deacon; Zack Arnold, Fort Gaines, junior grand deacon; E. Descombe Wells, Savannah, first grand steward; Dewey H. Wollstein, Rome, second grand steward, and Dave L. Shannon, Atlanta, third grand steward.

Cary W. Anderson, of Savannah, chairman, and W. W. Webb, of Habersham, of the board of trustees of the Masonic home, were re-elected for three-year terms each at district group meetings.

Nix, the retiring grand master, was presented elaborate silver service by Raymond Daniel, of Atlanta, past grand master, on behalf of the grand lodge.

Rev. W. A. Simmons, retired Methodist minister of Hapeville, was appointed grand chaplain by Grand Master McMillan and Rev. Firley Baum, Presbyterian minister of Atlanta, as associate grand chaplain.

JACKSON SECTION GETS RURAL POWER

Project for Six Middle Georgia Counties Expected To Be Approved.

JACKSON, Ga., Oct. 28.—With six middle Georgia counties co-operating, one of the largest rural electrification projects in the state is being pushed to the stage where formal contracts will be signed.

Maps have recently been made, showing roads, farm homes, etc., and these will be forwarded at once to the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington.

The project was launched at a large attended mass meeting in Jackson, with county and home demonstration agents in the six counties and interested citizens taking part. A representative of the REA assured the meeting that power would be available to the six counties by Christmas or early in the new year. As soon as the necessary contracts have been signed the details of organization will be completed.

The Butts County Chamber of Commerce has been active in pushing the project and county farm agents are helping secure the needed contracts.

Butts county is already served by two rural electrification projects, one in the Florio, Indian Springs and Camperdown section and the other including Jenkinsburg and community.

BOY KILLED IN CRASH IDENTIFIED AT ALBANY

ALBANY, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP)—The body of Willie Rob Coser, 18, of Reynolds, Ga., was identified and claimed last night by his father, W. R. Coser, a Taylor county farmer. The youth was fatally injured in a truck accident near Camilla Monday night.

An Associated Press dispatch carrying the news of the youth's death was seen by a relative in Macon who notified Mr. and Mrs. Coser in Reynolds.

Mr. Coser said his son had left home two or three days ago looking for work. He was headed toward Florida. Willie Rob Coser was graduated from high school in Reynolds in June. He is survived by his parents.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Reynolds.

The accident occurred when the truck in which Coser was riding overturned into a ditch. It was reported by J. J. Kinard, of Plant City, Fla., who told local police that he was the driver of the truck. Kinard said that he had picked up the youth near Valdosta.

prints are on file, the process of identification is simple.

The father took the son to an up-town hotel, where Dwight shaved and dressed in a new suit his father had bought him. Then the sessions with his father, seeking to establish a line of recollection, began anew.

Recollection of Zoo.

Dwight vaguely recalled his mother finally. It seems he had a strong desire to visit zoos. On one occasion, while visiting one with his mother, he saw a monkey and remarked it looked "just like one of the people I know." The father recalled this instance and Dwight's brain cleared sufficiently for him to describe his mother as "being able to stand under my arms, and wearing silver-rimmed glasses."

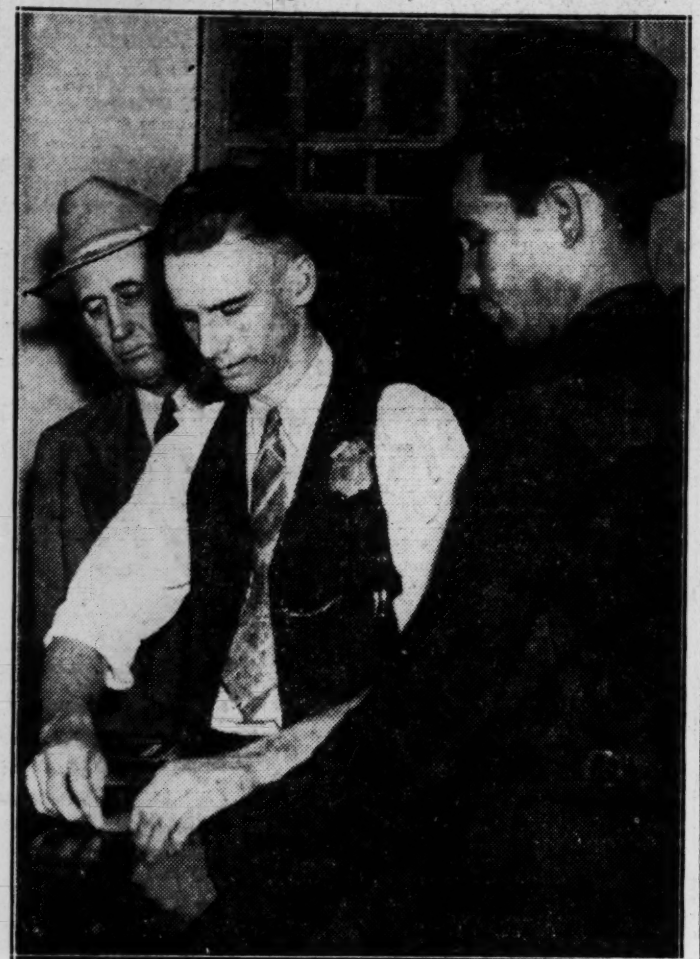

As Dwight and his father boarded the train for Fort Worth at Terminal station last night, he still was hazy on many subjects relating to his personal life, but slowly more and more things were coming back to him. He recalled a Congregational minister with whom he was closely associated in Austin. Other little things began to come back.

From conversation of the boy and the elder Saunders, it was learned that Dwight, in his wandering as "Marvin Peace," (the name he adopted when he realized he didn't know whom he was) had passed within one block of his home in Fort Worth and in front of the building where his father works as credit manager for a wholesale drug concern.

For the "underdog." The elder Saunders revealed that Dwight has always been very large and smart for his age. In kindergarten he clearly did not fit and was put into the second grade at the age of 5 1/2. The father said his son had long been interested in labor problems and was for the "underdog." At the University of Texas, where he was a sophomore, Dwight was student secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and had announced his candidacy for the office of student government assemblyman. It developed that Dwight withdrew from the race shortly before he "disappeared."

Dwight was last reported at the University of Texas on October 15, but his family was not notified of his disappearance until October 19. Since that time, he had been wandering over the south and his family had been frantically searching for him in Texas. Saunders revealed Dwight was a member of the Methodist church and not a Catholic as local people had believed. He said the boy was very intelligent.

Prints Will Identify Him If Amnesia Returns

"Marvin Peace" officially became Dwight Saunders again yesterday when he was identified by his father, James E. Saunders, who arrived here at noon from Fort Worth. The 18-year-old amnesia victim (right) is shown above being fingerprinted by Captain B. W. Seabrook, of the Department of Identification, as the father looks on. The fingerprints were taken at the request of the boy and his father as an identification safeguard against any future amnesia spell. Staff photo by George Cornett.

interested in all religions and that this explained why he knew so much about the Catholic faith.

Before he left for Texas, Dwight took his father around to meet all the people who had befriended him while in Atlanta, and together they thanked them for kindnesses.

"I hope this situation never develops again," the father said. "Thanks for what you have done. Come to see us in Fort Worth. So long."

And the two headed for Texas and home.

COUNTY JOINS DRIVE STARTED BY WATKINS

Judge Watkins said his staff will prosecute any violations of this nature on the ground of "contributing to the delinquency of a minor," a misdemeanor offense.

Allderman L. Giber Hailey yesterday notified Judge Watkins he is drawing an ordinance making it against the law to sell drinks to minors or to employ minors in beer and wine places in Atlanta. Councilman Howard Haile has proposed such an ordinance also, and City Attorney Jack C. Savage is to draw it for the next council session.

W. G. Wellborn, vice president of the Christian Council of Atlanta, an association of more than 100 churches, commended Judge Watkins and promised co-operation in stopping a situation which is called "deplorable" by the juvenile court judge.

A case of "plain drunk" against a 15-year-old white girl is to be considered by the judge this week. She was arrested by city police at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in a beer and wine tap room on Whitehall street, it was reported. "This sort of thing is the result of laxity in dealing with those who sell intoxicating drinks to minors," Judge Watkins said.

"A great many high school boys and girls ride out to beer and wine taverns in the county to drink and dance every night," Lieutenant Jordan said. "They get drunk and are subjected to influences in these places which I would not want my sons or daughters to have to resist. I am going to co-operate with Judge Watkins, and I am going to investigate all the places in my territory, which covers the south part of the county."

A dozen more places in the city and county are under investigation now by staff workers for Judge Watkins. A number of beer and wine dealers reported to the juvenile court judge yesterday they will neither employ minors nor sell drinks to them in the future.

photographers, Governor Landon took Smith by the arm.

"That's right," the cameramen said, "get closer together."

Landon grinned and said:

"We are close together as we can be and we're going to stick close together for a long time."

Asked for a statement after the conference, which was private, Landon said: "I was delighted to meet Governor Smith and I expect to work together with him."

Landon's automobile parade from the Pennsylvania station to the Murray Hill hotel became a melee of marchers and cars with police apparently unable to keep crowds from the procession. His hair blown away, a constantly waving hat in his hand, Landon seemed to enjoy the ride in his open car which was showered by paper and tape and spotlighted by Klieg lights.

Many of the paper slips which fluttered down from skyscrapers were printed with the words "Your pay deduction"—a notice that on January 1 taxes under the New Deal social security law would take a portion of pay envelopes.

Hoos and Shouts. There were occasional hoos and shouts for Mr. Roosevelt as the Kansas rode by.

Smith told reporters interviewing him after his conference with Landon that it was his first meeting with the Republican nominee. He added he liked Landon "very much."

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—(P)—Walter P. Chrysler, automobile manufacturer, pleaded guilty in United States district court today to two charges of violating the federal regulations for duck hunting and paid fines totaling $11.

William T. Pritchett, superintendent of Chrysler's Maryland estate, pleaded guilty to similar charges and paid similar fines, $10 on one charge and $1 on the other.

Federal game agents said the violations occurred last December 6. The charges were using automatic shotguns that had not been plugged to limit their capacity to three shells and failing to have federal migratory bird stamps in their possession.

United States District Judge W. Calvin Chesnut imposed the fines.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A new bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and going." Easy, gentle, yet smacking in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 50c.

GARDEN SCHOOL ENDS WITH TODAY'S SESSION

but she was enthusiastic in her praise of The Constitution as the first Atlanta newspaper to stage a constructive effort in behalf of the city's horticultural advancement.

Mrs. Crown elected to speak yesterday on the seemingly inexhaustible subject of bulbs. And so explicit and encouraging was she in her explanation of their planting and care you wanted to go right out and plant some, even though you had never put a spade in the ground. Mrs. Crown possesses the happy faculty of making things seem easy to grow, because she loves them and makes such a success of her gardening. Yesterday she brought to the school a huge collection of flowers that are still blooming in her garden at her home in Decatur. And, by the way, if you have never seen that delightful and charming spot, it is well worth your time to make a trip for the purpose. A naturalistic garden filled with a great variety of plants and a wealth of colorful bloom, it expresses much of the owner's gay and engaging personality and bespeaks in marked degree her great love for growing things.

Sure to Produce.
But to get back to bulbs. Mrs. Crown heartily recommends them because they are sure to produce flowers. In this climate, bulbs are blooming continuously from early February throughout the year. In addition, they are inexpensive to buy and inexpensive to care.

"I like flowers that are not greedy," she said, "and bulbs do very nicely if they are fed just twice a year. Is that not a strong point in their favor?"

"Bulbs belong in practically every type of garden, too," continued the lecturer. "You may plant them to good advantage in your formal, informal, naturalistic, and even in your rock gardens. For instance, there are stately tulips for your formal garden."

Here Mrs. Crown went into a detailed discussion of the many types of tulips, naming specimens for each kind of garden. She particularly favors them for their effect and their long season of bloom.

Illustrates Planting.
Mrs. Crown has a practical and forceful way of illustrating the points she wishes to stress in her lectures. In order that her listeners might not go wrong in planting their tulips, she brought to the school her pots and soil and fertilizer to show them the exact rules to follow. The same method holds for practically any type of bulb. And here is her procedure:

Tulips like soft, loamy soil, so she emptied upon her table a pot of good, rich earth. She added the same amount of sand and an equal amount of peat moss. Then she sprinkled over it a good handful of bone meal and mixed it all thoroughly. Placing some cinders in the bottom of the pot for the sake of drainage, she proceeded to fill it with the mixture to within an inch of the top, to allow for watering.

Now you are ready to put in the bulbs. And here is a very important rule to remember, according to Mrs. Crown. They should be planted at a depth of three times their diameter. That is, a bulb one inch in diameter should be planted three inches deep. By all means do not cover them too deep. The top of the tulip bulb should come just to the surface of the soil.

Warns on Varieties.
Mrs. Crown warns against planting too many varieties of tulips, for the best effects are obtained by greater numbers of fewer varieties. The blossoms should be cut so they will not make seed, and after the blooming season is over and the foliage has turned yellow, they should be dug and stored in the cellar to allow them to rest. December is tulip-planting time in this section.

"Hyacinths are another very satisfactory bulb," continued the instructor. "In fact, I do not believe hyacinths are properly appreciated." And she gave as her reasons the many types that are to be bought, the splendid way in which they repay their care, and their inexpensiveness. The heavy, showy type of hyacinth may be grown to good effect in a formal garden, the cheaper and more graceful variety is suited for landscape planting, and the small Roman hyacinths are good for blooming indoors and for forcing in pots.

There is even a type of hyacinth, the grape variety, that naturalizes itself in a woodland or informal garden, along with members of the narcissus family. Belonging to this huge and interesting family, of course, is that southern garden favorite, the ubiquitous daffodil.

Forcing Bulbs to Bloom.
An interesting lesson coming out of yesterday's lecture on bulbs was that of forcing them into bloom. Mrs. Crown went into the proper method one of the most satisfactory flowers. By planting the valley lily pips in pots, you may have a wealth of bloom in the amazingly short space of three weeks. They may also be grown outdoors in this latitude, but they require a cool, shady spot on the north side of the house. And such an economical plant they are to feed! They want to be fed only once a year, preferably in December.

Following her talk, the lecturer displayed a collection of colored slides. The slides sought to illustrate the correct planting methods and presented many actual photographs of gardens where bulbs were used to striking effect. In conclusion, Mrs. Crown read a poem, one of her own compositions, which told in clever rhyme of the many attractive bargains to be obtained from the various local firms that lent their co-operation and support to the school.

She wore for her lecture a becoming black linen smock, smartly belted and brightened with colored buttons. She arranged the stage from which she spoke to represent a foundation planting, using only plants that grow successfully in the shade. The plants were contributed by the Hogsansville Nursery, a well-established firm that specializes in boxwood which is much in vogue and high in favor at the moment. A pair of magnificent Intermedia boxwoods, used in the stage setting, were contributed by the nursery and awarded as prizes at the close of the session. Other shrubs composing the shady foundation planting included azaleas, tea plants, cape jessamines, nandinas, holly and barberry. A single specimen plant in the setting was a beautiful Chinese fur tree.

The school opened yesterday, as on

Yesterday's attendance prize of $15, awarded by The Constitution to the garden club registering the largest number of members present, went to the Oakland City Garden Club, of which Mrs. A. C. Cawthon is president. Today's closing session will feature the award of a grand prize of $25 to the garden club totaling the largest number of members present for the entire three-day session. A number of other valuable prizes will be given at the close of the school. Registration will begin at 9 o'clock this morning when the doors of the auditorium are open to the public. Promptly at 10 o'clock the school program begins, and at 11:30 The Constitution's third semi-annual garden school will be brought to a happy and successful close.

SHRIMP MIGRATION STUDIED BY BUREAU
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Experts at the fisheries bureau pondered today a mathematical theory that one-fourth of the shrimp population in waters off Florida and Georgia is caught by fishermen each season.

They figured it out on the basis of returns from shrimp tagged by a staff from the bureau last winter along the south Atlantic coast. Of the 3,800 tagged, more than 900 were caught and returned to the bureau.

The tagging experiment, which was continued this year, is part of a study of the shrimp movement from season to season. Frank T. Bell, commissioner of the bureau, said there was a strong possibility that large shrimp, which always disappear at the beginning of cold weather, move into deeper water, leaving only the younger and smaller ones in regular fishing grounds. Bureau records show fishermen take approximately 100,000,000 pounds a year.

LEADERSHIP OF G. O. P.

ASSAILED BY ROPER

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—(P)—Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, assailed tonight what termed a "turn back the clock" Republican leadership for bringing "forward the forces of hysteria in an endeavor to smother the constructive accomplishments of the Roosevelt administration."

"The bogymen strategy did not work," Roper declared in a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of the All-Philadelphia Citizens' Committee and the Good Neighbor League for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

"Instead of the illusions of Hoover, the people are now offered the delusions of Landon," Roper declared, "looking beyond the shadow of Republican campaign to the substance of the Roosevelt accomplishments."

CUMMINGS DEFENDS F. D. R. MONEY POLICY

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28.—(P)—Homer Cummings, United States attorney general, said tonight that President Roosevelt when he devalued the dollar "shifted the money center of America from Wall Street to Washington."

"Speaking a few days ago at Philadelphia, Mr. Hoover took occasion to deplore the devaluation," Cummings said in his address, prepared for radio delivery before the Democratic Lawyers' Club of Cleveland.

"I do not pause to debate the issue, because not a fraction of 1 per cent of our people agree with him; because no responsible voice is raised anywhere in America demanding a return to the old ratio, or the old system," Cummings said.

"The leaders of the Republican party, in drafting their platform, did not see fit to challenge its wisdom" and "Mr. Hoover himself did not have the courage to advocate a restoration of the old system or the old ratio," he said.

only a small part of our duty to America when we glory in the great past. Patriotism that stops with that is a too-easy patriotism—a patriotism out of step with the patriots.

"For each generation the more patriotic part is to carry forward American freedom and American peace by making them living facts in a living present."

"To that we can, we do, rededicate ourselves."

A 21-gun presidential salute roared out across the harbor from the cruiser Indianapolis, whose sailors were drawn up at attention along the rails, as the President approached Bedloe's island.

Airplanes hummed high overhead.

Flag Blow Torch.

A flag hung just below the torch, and streamers of flags swept downward from the pedestal on which the statue, clothed in the green of weathered copper, has stood for 50 years.

A car took the President directly to the base of the statue between lines of soldiers from the fort on Bedloe's island.

Pennant-bedecked boats stood by in the near-by waters.

The President talked of human resources that streamed to American shores, and spoke of the United States as a land of a "second chance."

He recalled that when President Cleveland accepted the statue in 1886, he had pledged:

"We will not forget that liberty has made her home; nor shall her altar be neglected."

Mr. Roosevelt added:

"During those 50 years that covenant between ourselves and our most cherished convictions has not been broken."

Although the stream of immigration nearly has stopped, he said, the country has already been poured untold and untapped. It is his responsibility, "out of which we shall continue to build an even better home for liberty."

Still Holds to Faith.

"Even in times as troubled as these," he said, "I still hold to the faith that a better civilization than any we have known is in store for America and by our example, perhaps for the world."

"Here destiny seems to have taken a long look. Into this continental reservoir there has been poured untold and untapped. It is his responsibility, "out of which we shall continue to build an even better home for liberty."

When he had finished, the President ferried back to Manhattan and motored through lanes of shouting humanity to Roosevelt Park on the East Side. It was there he spoke of housing. There, too, he spoke again of freedom and liberty as he continued through Brooklyn on the way to Governor's Island, where he had lunch with Major General Frank R. McCoy, commander of the army's second corps area, and former commander of the fourth corps area with headquarters in Atlanta.

The presidential car passed the 12-block Williamsburg housing project being built by PWA and crossed over to lower Manhattan.

Traffic was snarled for blocks while cheering thousands waved the President on his way through skyscraper canyons.

A faint spatter of "hoos" could be heard among the cheerers as he moved down Broadway, past Wall Street and the financial district, to The Battery, where another ferry took him to Governor's Island.

KEEPING UP WITH JONESSES.

MESA, Ariz., Oct. 28.—(P)—The Jones wedding went into the marriage certificate records today. A certificate showed Archie Jones and Ada Jones were married by Charles R. Jones, with John B. Jones and Parley P. Jones the witnesses.

Cities Need Action.

"You and I will not be content until city, state and federal governments join with private capital in helping every American family to live better."

"We need action to get better city housing. Senator Wagner and I had hoped for a new law at the last session of the congress. We believe in better housing have not been defeated. I am confident that the next congress will start us on our way with a sound housing policy."

People massed solidly in Roosevelt park sent up a roar as the President stepped on the balcony of the administration building. Thousands of children were crammed shoulder-to-shoulder on a big playground and waved flags in a changing wave of colors.

Men and women were crowded on fire escapes and roof tops for blocks up the street.

The President joined the children in singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" before he was introduced by Governor Lehman.

There was a burst of applause when he remarked that the park had been named for his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

From the park he drove to his Sixty-fifth street home to spend the evening before going to the special train which in the early morning hours was to take him into Pennsylvania for campaign speeches at Wilkes-Barre and Harrisburg. Before returning tomorrow night to Washington, he will take his re-election drive into New Jersey in a speech at Camden and into Delaware and another at Wilmington.

Greeted by Thousands.

Tumultuous but orderly crowds by the tens of thousands bordered the streets and hung from buildings from the time the President started out from Bayonne, N. J. in midmorning. School children in hordes stood shrieking along the route, each holding a fluttering flag aloft.

A band, a 21-gun salute, bunting and flags on buildings and over the streets, and shredded paper fluttering down from above met the chief executive in Bayonne.

He paused before a microphone before starting out to pick up the "prosperity" theme on which he has pounded throughout the campaign.

"I am happy to know," he said, "that your factories and all your industrial plants are running again."

He said one of his great hopes four years ago was to "bring greater security and prosperity," adding that the objective had been reached.

Dressed in a gray cutaway with an overcoat to protect him from the autumn chill, he drove in an open car to Staten Island, crossed it and took a ferry to Brooklyn.

There he dedicated the new buildings of Brooklyn College, financed for the school by the PWA.

Introduced by Mayor.

He was introduced by Mayor LaGuardia, of New York, who had to get up on a box to see over the speaker's stand.

The President said the college project was an example of "skilling two birds with one stone" because it gave work to people who needed work and "improved the educational facilities of the great borough for generations to come."

Out of the depression, he added, has come much suffering, but also some good, because during it an opportunity has been given to almost all the 3,000 counties in the nation to get better schools for the young people.

More school children and some of their elders kept a bedlam of noise and a flash of flags as he continued through Brooklyn on the way to Governor's Island, where he had lunch with Major General Frank R. McCoy, commander of the army's second corps area, and former commander of the fourth corps area with headquarters in Atlanta.

The presidential car passed the 12-block Williamsburg housing project being built by PWA and crossed over to lower Manhattan.

BODY WORKERS OPPOSE ORDER FOR WAGE CUT

Employees of the Fisher Body Company of Atlanta met last night at the Lakewood Heights school to protest a wage cut claimed to average 25 per cent in the assembly plant. F. C. Pieper, executive board member of the International Union of Automobile Workers of America, addressed the meeting.

A committee of representatives from the various departments of the plant was appointed to present the workers' demands to J. W. Roach, plant manager, calling for revocation of the wage out. The gathering, said to represent more than 50 per cent of the employees of the plant, voted that the "belt line" of Fisher bodies construction would stop if their demands are not granted. The report of the committee is scheduled to be submitted to the workers at a meeting tomorrow night.

U. S. POPULATION RISES NEAR 1,000,000 IN YEAR
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(AP)—United States population on July 1 was reported today by Secretary Roper to be 128,420,000, an increase of 908,000 over July 1, 1935.

Roper told his press conference the increase resulted largely from an excess of births over deaths, net immigration for the year ended July 1 being only about 8,000.

CLEMSON'S ALUMNI PLAN STAG DINNER

Head Coach Neely Will Be Among Speakers at Rally Tomorrow Night.

Alumni of Clemson College will give an informal stag dinner and their annual rally prior to the Clemson-Tech game at 7 o'clock tomorrow night at the Atlanta Athletic Club, it was announced yesterday.

Jess Neely, head coach, and Jake Woodward, secretary of the Clemson Alumni Association, will make short speeches following the dinner. Short talks also will be made by other coaches and prominent college officials.

Reservations for 100 Atlanta alumni and 25 guests from the college already have been made, it was announced yesterday.

Members of the football team will be greeted by the alumni prior to the dinner.

Georgia Is Aided by Agreements Completed With Foreign Countries

Department of State Report on Progress With Reciprocal Treaties Reveals Advantages Accruing to Citizens Through Lowered, Balanced Barriers.

More money in the pockets of Georgians was seen yesterday in a report from the Department of State on the progress being made by the United States government on reciprocal trade agreements with foreign countries.

The alarming decreases in foreign trade caused by excessive barriers set up by the nations of the world—in some cases in direct retaliation against the Hawley-Smoot tariff act of 1930—are being overcome by friendly trade agreements with an increasing number of other countries, with Georgia standing as a heavy gainer in the recovery of foreign trade, the report stated.

Georgia is participating in the now increasing imports, state officials said, and already is receiving financial benefit from the trade agreements concluded to date with 14 foreign countries, by authority granted to the President to negotiate with foreign countries under the trade agreements act of June 12, 1934.

Cotton, the chief money crop of Georgia, has shown an appreciable increase during the first six months of the present year over the same period of 1935, according to the report. Textiles, forming Georgia's most important industry, have brought concessions from five countries on cotton yarn and from ten countries on various cotton textile products.

Most of the 14 countries with which agreements have been established have given concessions of one sort or another on forest products which come second only to the value of textile products in Georgia.

The state also has benefited in concessions granted on importation by foreign countries of tobacco, nuts, fruits and miscellaneous agricultural and industrial products. All the 14 countries except France have given concessions on canned peaches and canned fruits for salad, an important economic factor for Georgia.

In summing up the report, the State Department said:

"Through its trade agreements program the government is facilitating the expansion of foreign markets for both agricultural and industrial products. The continued success of this program means the restoration and expansion of the purchasing power of those large groups of farmers, industrial workers and other whose activities are directly dependent upon foreign markets."

J. A. REYNOLDS SR. PASSES IN FLORIDA

U. S. Road Engineer Once Had Lived Five Years in Atlanta.

James Allen Reynolds Sr., 50, former resident of Atlanta, died yesterday morning of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home in Gainesville, Fla.

Reynolds, who was an engineer in the United States Bureau of Public Roads for more than ten years, was stationed in Atlanta for five years as associate highway engineer. He was detailed to Gainesville four years ago and had been there since.

While in Atlanta the Reynolds were members of the Deatur Episcopal church and Mrs. Reynolds was church musician.

Surviving are his wife and a son, James Allen Reynolds Jr. Funeral services will be conducted in Gainesville today and the body will be taken to Denton, Md., for burial.

MRS. LUCY J. ANDREWS WILL BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy Jackson Andrews, 70, pioneer resident of Atlanta, and wife of the late George W. Andrews, for many years secretary of the Georgia Baptist Sunday School Association, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Inman Park Baptist church.

The Rev. S. F. Lowe and Mrs. Louie D. Newton and W. Lee Cutts will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery, under direction of Awtry & Lowndes. Mrs. Andrews, who died Monday at the residence, 934 Waverly way, N. E., came to this city as a bride in 1886.

PASSAGE OF TAX LIMIT IS URGED BY GOVERNOR

Talmadge Says Opponents of Amendment Are Selfish in Attitude.

Approval of the proposed 15-mill tax limitation amendment will "help the people more than the $3 tag," Governor Talmadge, who sponsored the amendment in the legislature last year, stated yesterday as he urged its adoption in the November 3 election.

"It is hard to understand how anyone off the pay roll of the state, county or city governments would be opposed to this 15-mill overall tax limitation," he said.

"It is easy to understand why those on the pay roll of the county, or city government would want this 15-mill limitation defeated. Those on the pay roll and making a living out of the state, county or municipality, know their salaries would have to be reasonable and a reasonable number of employees would be essential with a 15-mill limitation for taxes," the Governor declared.

He said government jobs are the most attractive of any with shorter hours and higher wages. "The taxpayers don't have expense accounts paid by the state to take trips over the state and nation. They have to stay at home and put up this money," the chief executive said.

George W. Hunt, chairman of the Savannah zone of the Georgia Real Estate Taxpayers' Association, also urged adoption of the amendment. He said excessive taxation has done great damage to the real estate of the city in particular, causing industries and homes to be built outside the city limits.

Talmadge declared stocks and bonds pay practically no taxes now and it is an exception when an individual returns his stocks and bonds, notes and money to the tax receiver.

"Some of the largest stock and bondholders I know in the state are against this 15-mill limitation," he said. "They know if this limitation is adopted by the people, laws will be passed that will compel the return of all invisible property. Don't listen to those on the pay roll of the state, county or municipality. Listen to those who are paying the taxes," said the Governor.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

ATTEMPT OF BRADLEY AT SUICIDE REVEALED

Broke down and stood silently before the bench, and then she bowed her head and tears streamed down.

She stammered:

"My daddy's a good man! He has been the best daddy!"

She broke again and the judge waited patiently as she fought to control her sobs.

Then she leaned forward and spoke to the judge earnestly in low tones, inaudible to the crowd. Judge Underwood waited until she had finished and then beckoned her even closer to the bench and as she leaned over toward him, he spoke earnestly to her.

Reminds of Others' Distress.

The judge was heard to say:

"I understand just how you feel. But you must understand that your distress is no deeper than that suffered by the hundreds who lost their money."

Judge Underwood spoke to the girl for several minutes and she recovered her composure as he attempted to comfort her. She smiled and thanked him and returned to her seat.

Bradley and McDuffie in their appeals to the court had condemned Tom H. Jervy, postal inspector, who was responsible for trailing Bradley relentlessly until the trapped broker surrendered.

M. Neil Andrews, assistant United States attorney, suggested that Jervy might want to say something in his own behalf.

Facts Substantiated.

Jervy stepped forward and announced that the facts he had revealed had been substantiated by personal investigation.

Judge Underwood then began his sentence, laying aside memoranda on the desk and answering the questions of Bradley, McDuffie and Nall, who had maintained bad luck had caused the collapse of the American Bond & Share Corporation that they had succeeded in similar enterprises and, if Bradley had had good luck, he would have been rated as a financial genius.

"Society must be protected," said Judge Underwood. "There is too much of this trying to stay within the law while doing people."

"Holding one's self up to be a great businessman and giving the public to understand that great profits are being earned by such practices is just as serious or more serious than taking money unlawfully by physical violence."

Seven Years in Prison.

He then sentenced Bradley to serve five years on 17 counts of the indictment, the five years to be served concurrently, and to two years on 21 counts, the two years to be served concurrently, but the two and five-year sentences to be served consecutively. This meant seven years in prison.

Bradley's daughter broke down again as she heard the sentence and attempted to embrace her father, but he patted her on the shoulder affectionately and was led away by the deputy marshals.

Bradley's attempt at suicide was revealed after McDuffie had said to the judge:

"The depth of his humiliation is evidenced by acts just prior to his arrest, known to your honor and which I will not discuss."

These facts, it was revealed, were about Bradley's attempt at suicide.

Found by Motorist.

On Sunday night, October 12, a motorist in a deserted street on the outskirts of Newport, Ky., found a man slumped on the side of the road behind an automobile. He stopped his car to investigate and found a man almost unconscious, with a tube in his mouth connected to the exhaust pipe of his automobile. The motorist had stalled.

Police were summoned, the man was rushed to a hospital and recovered to some extent and was moved to a jail instead. Three letters were found on the seat of the attempted suicide's automobile and these revealed he was B. R. Bradley and was wanted by federal authorities in Atlanta. The police held him and communicated with the persons to whom the letters were addressed.

Persuaded to Surrender.

One of the addresses was a prominent Kentuckian, who rushed to Newport from his home in Lexington. He spoke to Bradley and communicated with Atlanta friends of Bradley. By that time, Bradley was beginning to recover from the effects of the gasoline fumes and he was prevailed on to allow his son to drive him to Atlanta where he was to surrender and take his medicine instead of killing himself.

The son drove Bradley to Atlanta and the case, as far as federal courts are concerned, ended yesterday.

Two charges of larceny after trust still stand against Bradley in state courts in Atlanta and he will face these charges when his sentence in the federal prison is completed.

Another detainee has been served on local federal officials by Pittsburgh authorities, who charge Bradley participated in a bunco racket in that city.

BIG VICTORY CLAIMED BY SPANISH SOCIALISTS

effort has arrived."

At the same time the streets of the capital were plastered with a Socialist manifesto "demanding a share in the responsibility of government."

The newspaper C. N. T., organ of the Confederation of Labor with which the Socialists are aligned, indicated that the results of a cabinet shakeup might be made known at any moment.

Largo Caballero in his appeal for those loyal to the Socialist government to exert the utmost effort said:

"People of Madrid! Combatants at the front! The hour for decisive effort has arrived."

Meet Little Opposition.

Most of the refugees possessed nothing but carts of household belongings—no food, money, or clothing.

The normal 1,000,000 population of Spain's capital city, authorities estimated, had been increased 50 per cent by streams of haggard old men, women and children which have thronged to the city from Fascist-captured areas.

The government tonight saw sheer force of numbers as the best—and perhaps only—method of breaking the insurgent attack before it gained the gates of the city.

The military high command mobilized all able-bodied men between 20 and 45 into a new second line army estimated at 35,000.

Fascist leaders tonight smiled with utmost confidence at reports of Madrid's physical and human defenses so hastily organized against them.

The advance units of their V-shaped attack were each within 10 miles of Madrid and having little difficulty driving forward much as they chose.

For the final assault on the city itself, the Fascists were saving a deadly fleet of 200 "baby" armored cars and tanks.

With machine guns spitting death from the slits in the sides of these mobile pill-boxes, the Fascist leaders said, their men should be able to kill all who opposed their triumphant entrance into Madrid.

Fear Burning of City.

It was not their wish, the Fascist leaders asserted, to spill more blood in the beautiful boulevards of Madrid than was necessary for its capture.

The populace, they hoped, would be terrified into surrender by their daily airplane strafing, and if not by this, the capital's defenders might be demoralized when the insurgent artillery was brought into play.

Field batteries of six-inch guns, able to shell Madrid from a distance of but a few miles, were wheeled up with the advance Fascist infantry units.

It would not be long, the insurgent leaders said, before they would be whining shells into the very patios of Madrid.

Recalling the sacking and burning of Irun earlier in the civil war, the insurgent leaders said there was also the possibility that the anarchists within Madrid might set the city afire as soon as it became apparent the Fascists advance was inexorable.

The insurgent attackers tonight were deployed in a narrow "V" with the vortex at Paris, about 14 miles south-southwest of Madrid on the road to Toledo.

Looking at the war map, the right point of the "V" was at El Cerro De Los Angeles, less than ten miles south of the capital on the Aranjuez road; the left point of the "V" was at Alcorcon, about eight miles southwest of the capital on the road from Madrid to Navalcarnero.

Claim Planes Destroyed.

Even the Madrid war ministry today awaited government reports on various sectors. Some observers felt these announcements might have been given out in an effort to convince the populace of their desperate situation.

A Spanish battlefront dispatch reaching Paris today said insurgent warplane pilots had reported the government forces drawn into Madrid's suburbs.

Only at Talavera De La Reina, the government announcement said, had their forces harassed the enemy. Twelve insurgent planes were destroyed, it was said, when government planes bombed a Fascist temporary airfield there.

The dynamite-tossing Astorian miners, who have seen some of the most ferocious fighting of the war, were reported to have reinforced their positions for another attack on Oviedo, recently recaptured by the insurgents. 000 Chickamauga, dam; latest link in the TVA power program, was announced today by Lee Warren, TVA project engineer.

LISTEN: TO THE MOST SOLID SOUND IN 1937 CARS!

Slam those bigger doors. Hear it? Your ears, as well as your eyes, detect the welcome difference which now

Glorifies THE STEEL BODY

Bank workers hear it—whenever a steel vault is closed. Housewives hear it—every time they shut their modern steel refrigerators.

It's that unmistakable sound of solid steel meeting solid steel through an air-tight rubber cushion.

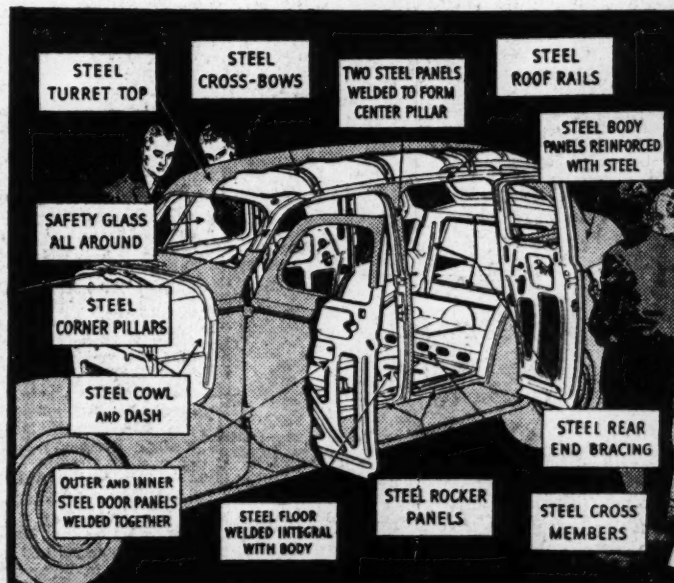

And if you walk into any General Motors showroom you'll hear it, too—as salesmen and visitors thud home the doors in the new UNISTEEL TURRET TOP BODY BY FISHER!

This solid substantial sound—without a trace of tinniness—is to the safety-wise and value-wise car buyer enough to make him say, "That's the car I want!"

For, simple as it is, it yet expresses the new luxury and security that this advanced kind of steel body assures on the highway and throughout the years of its use.

Here is more than just an improved steel body. It is the first steel body of its kind—the only steel body that is all-of-a-piece with top, sides, bottom and floor in one solid steel unit.

Here is one-piece steel-on-steel rigidity . . . from the arched and crowned steel Turret Top . . . down over the drawn steel side panels

The inside story of Unisteel construction

Landon's Speech in Newark

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Text of Governor Alf M. Landon's speech here today follows:

Labor has fairly won many victories in this country. Its greatest triumph has been won not on the field of battle but in the stronghold of public opinion.

The greatest victory of labor, in my opinion, has been to bring about the general recognition of an important principle. It is that national prosperity depends on labor's receiving an increasing share of the value of everything we produce. The truth of this principle is today accepted by the man who hires as well as by the man who toils. It is the foundation of increased production, greater national wealth, higher average purchasing power, and a larger measure of happiness for everyone.

Organized labor has been the natural champion of this principle. The father of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers, was one of its first sponsors. As early as 1889, he declared:

"I believe that as time goes on, the wage earners will continue to become larger sharers per dollar of the wealth produced. I have no fear as to the future of organized labor."

EVERY CITIZEN SIDED WITH MR. GOMPERS.

Since then America has grown, and the organized labor movement has grown along with the nation. That conviction of Mr. Gompers has become the conviction of every progressive citizen of this country. The capitalist who employs labor knows that ultimately the success of his enterprise depends on more widely distributed purchasing power. The banker who furnishes credit to the industrialist recognizes that higher wages, shorter hours and a constantly rising standard of living, create a greater demand for the output of his plant.

Organized labor has become part and parcel of the framework of this democratic nation. The labor union, as public opinion recognizes, is an instrument of economic progress and national well-being. The day when the owner of a business knew personally every man in his employ and often his family, is virtually gone with the development of vast industrial units. With this rapid growth of large enterprises it is only logical that an instrument like collective bargaining should have been developed for a closer understanding between management and men.

I would like the workers of America, whether they are organized or unorganized, to understand clearly that their problems are familiar to me; that I myself have worked with my own hands; that I have earned wages, and that I am in deep sympathy with the point of view of the working men and the working women, and eager to co-operate with them.

I WILL ENFORCE LAWS FOR LABOR'S PROTECTION

For many years I have believed in the necessity for organization as a means of advancing the fortunes of the individual worker, raising his standard of living and giving him the position in the world to which he is entitled. It is a fact that the supreme court of the United States recognizes the right of organized labor through peaceful methods to extend organization to labor that is unorganized, that it recognizes the right to peaceful picketing, and generally that the law is on the side of those who as workers are eager to promote their own fortunes and those of their fellow workers in the same or other industries.

It is an old story that labor has the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing without interference by employers. But like many another old story, it needs to be emphasized and applied. When I am president I will see to it that federal laws for the protection of workers are enforced.

If this right of organized labor has been acquired through great sacrifice, it is all the more valuable because of the lesson of experience it has given us all. Today we know that progress comes through mutual understanding between labor and capital, reached through conferences based on the processes of collective bargaining.

EMPLOYERS, WORKERS' PACT IS THE AMERICAN WAY

As Mr. Gompers said, "From the moment in which workers and employers negotiate and agree upon terms, hours, conditions and wages, the principle of autocratic domination gives way to the principle of democcratic co-operation." In those words Mr. Gompers stated the American way of meeting the labor problem. It is the only democratic way. False liberalism and undisguised autocracy follow a different route. They do not believe the chance. They believe "There is the way of war, not of peace."

Mr. Gompers' great success in the cause of organized labor lay in his genius in recognizing that the situation of the workman in this country is different from that of labor in the old world. In most European nations labor has become a class apart. In America labor always has been merged in the nation as a whole.

Labor in this country has progressed by following the Gompers policy of keeping free from entanglement with any political group. That policy more than anything else is responsible for the steady advance it has made. In the United States real wages have constantly increased, but at the same time labor has retained its freedom. More than that, it has won general recognition of its right to organize.

SEEK TO INTRODUCE EUROPEAN SYSTEM

We are witnessing in this country today an effort to introduce into the camp of American labor the European system of political alliances which invariably leads to disaster. Trying times leaders arise who claim they will deliver the labor vote to one political camp or the other. Back in 1904 even Mr. Gompers himself was accused of such a move. The cry was raised: "Gompers has promised to deliver the labor vote." Years later when writing the story of his life he made reply. I quote:

"I knew full well that I could not deliver the labor vote nor did I make any such promise or pretense. It was simply absurd for anyone to charge that I had in mind either the desire or the will or the ability to deliver the labor vote."

To meet that unjust criticism and attack I frequently declared upon the public platform as well as in conferences and writings that I had not the power to deliver the vote of any man. The only vote which I controlled was my own." Mr. Gompers spoke truly. No one can deliver the labor vote of America to any one political party. No one can deliver any other class vote in America to any one political party.

Why? Because there are no classes in America. We are one nation and one people. We are a nation of individuals and of freemen. As freemen we may differ in our opinions on national affairs. But we are one people however much we may differ.

THE UNIQUE FEATURE OF AMERICAN SYSTEM.

That is the unique feature of our American system. One who claims to be able to deliver, or strives to deliver any part of the American people to a political master is betraying the creed of Americans. Such a person is sowing the seeds of destruction for all of us. He threatens to destroy the one classless nation in a world divided by class hatred and overshadowed by the tragedy of disunion.

Let us stand in the future, as in the past, a united people, a united nation! Now, in conclusion I want to discuss another matter of deep concern to labor.

I have been frankly exposing the inadequacies, the inequalities, the dangers, and the disappointments inherent in the compulsory insurance programs of the United States. At the same time I have been offering in its stead a practical and a constructive program of real security.

BURDEN OF SECURITY FALLS ON THE WORKERS.

The present administration claims that the burdens of the social security act fall mainly upon the employers. The real facts are that they fall almost entirely on the workers. They must pay twice; once directly when the tax is deducted from their pay envelopes in increasing amounts until it reaches three per cent. They must pay again indirectly in the form of higher prices or lower wages. These inevitably must result from the six per cent pay roll taxes on their employers, who must pass on these increased costs to the public in one form or another.

I have already pointed out that about half of our workers, engaged in agriculture, household work and the like, are excluded from the benefits of the act; that this is the largest tax measure in our history; that the young workers are forced to carry a disproportionately higher share of the burden than the older workers; and that federal bureaucrats will check and reduce every pay envelope and every shift of jobs of every man and woman covered by the act.

ACT AT ITS BEST IS ONLY A PROMISE

When payments become due, they must be currently authorized by congress and newly financed. The act at best is only a promise of the government to raise money at some future time if it can. I know the proceeds of these taxes in the hands of this administration will be used to meet current deficits and future extravaganzas. This is not social security. It will create social insecurity.

On the other hand, we Republicans have pledged ourselves to provide assistance to the needy, blind and crippled, to foster the promotion of child welfare and the improvement of the public health service.

Our platform proposes to encourage adoption by the states of honest and practical programs of unemployment insurance. This position is taken because all that I know of experience abroad with this type of insurance has been a bitter disappointment. Practically every plan has broken down after a few months in the face of a depression of any duration. The only real reserve to meet prolonged unemployment is sound government credit based upon a balanced budget and a low national debt. These facilitate necessary borrowing in time of need.

G. O. P. ADVOCATING RAIL PENSION PLAN

We Republicans further pledge ourselves to provide every American citizen over 65 with the supplementary payment necessary to give a minimum income sufficient to protect him or her from want. This is a genuine old age pension plan which, I have always believed, should not be based on the pauper's oath, although this oath may be required under the present social security act.

Our plan of federal grants-in-aid by the states will be on a pay-as-you-go basis. The necessary funds will be raised by means of special tax, directly levied, and widely distributed. For only if everyone bears his just share can we hope to prevent the plan being used for political

Roosevelt's Liberty Address

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Following is the text of President Roosevelt's speech at the fifth anniversary celebration at the Statue of Liberty today:

Fifty years ago our old neighbor and friend from across the sea gave us this monument to stand at the principal entrance gateway to the new world. Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, accepted this gift with the pledge that "we will not forget that liberty has here made her home; nor shall her chosen altar be neglected."

During those 50 years that covenant between ourselves and our most cherished convictions has not been broken.

FOUND NEW WORLD INSTEAD OF GOLD

Four hundred years ago, in Europe as well as in Asia, there was little hope of liberty for the average man of courage and good will. The ambitions of a ruling class and the times alike, conspired against liberty of conscience, liberty of speech, liberty of the person, liberty of economic opportunity. Wars, dynastic and religious, had exhausted both the substance and the tolerance of the old world. There was neither economic nor political liberty—nor any hope for either.

Then came one of the great ironies of history. Rulers needed to find gold to pay their armies and increase their power over the common men. The seamen they sent to find that gold found instead the way of escape for the common man from those rule. What they found over the western horizon was not the silk and jewels of Cathay but mankind's second chance—a chance to create a new world, to have almost spoiled an old one.

And the Almighty seems purposefully to have withheld that second chance until the time when men would most need and appreciate liberty, the time when men would be enlightened enough to establish it on foundations sound enough to maintain it.

FOUNDERS POSSESSED THE SUPREME COURAGE

For over three centuries a steady stream of men, women and children followed the beacon of liberty which this light symbolizes. They brought to us strength and moral fibre developed in civilization centuries old but fired anew by the dream of a better life in America. They brought to one new country the cultures of a hundred old ones.

It has not been sufficiently emphasized in the teaching of our history that the overwhelming majority of those who came from the nations of old to our American shores were not the laggards, not the timid, not the failures. They were men and women who had the supreme courage to strike out for themselves in this land of promise and risk—to start at the bottom without influence, without money and without knowledge of life in a very young civilization. We can say for all America what the Californians say of the forty-niners, "the cowards never started and the weak died by the way."

Perhaps Providence did prepare this American continent to be a place of the second chance. Certainly, millions of men and women have made it that. They adopted this homeland as their own. They found a home in which the things they most desired could be theirs—freedom of opportunity, freedom of thought, freedom of worship. Here they found life because here there was freedom to live.

THEY SPOKE LANGUAGE OF HUMAN ASPIRATION

It is the memory of all these eager seeking millions that makes this one of America's places of great romance. Looking down this great harbor I like to think of the countless number of inbound vessels that have made this port. I like to think of the men and women who—with the break of dawn off Sandy Hook—have strained their eyes to the west for a first glimpse of the new world.

They came to us—most of them in steerage. But they, in their humble quarters, saw things in these strange horizons which were denied to the eyes of the few who traveled in greater luxury.

They came to us speaking many tongues—but a single language, the universal language of human aspiration.

How well their hopes were justified is proved by the record of what they achieved. They not only found freedom in the new world, but by purposes. Our program contemplates administration by the states on a non-political basis in order to end centralized control in Washington.

My criticism of the present act is not that its purpose is bad. It is that this act will involve a cruel disappointment for those of our people least able to bear the shock of "disappointment."

To these—our old people and our workers struggling for better conditions I will not promise the moon. I promise only that I know can be performed: Economy, a living person, and such security as can be provided by a generous people.

their effort and devotion they made the new world's freedom safer, richer, more far reaching, more capable of growth.

Within this present generation that stream from abroad has largely stopped. We have withdrawn our shores today the materials out of which we shall continue to build an even better home for liberty.

We take satisfaction in the thought that those who have left their native land to join us, may still retain here their affection for some things left behind—old customs, old languages, old friends. Looking to the future they wisely choose that their children shall live in the new language and in the new customs of their new people. And those children more and more realize their common destiny in America. That is true whether their forebears came past this place eight generations ago or only one.

GODDESS OF LIBERTY AND PEACE ARE SAME

The realization that we are all bound together by hope of a common future rather than by reverence for the past, has helped us to build upon this continent a unity unapproached in any similar area of population in the whole world. For all our millions of square miles, for all our millions of people, there is a unity in language and speech, in law and in economics, in education and in general purpose, which nowhere finds its equal.

It was the hope of those who gave us this statue and the hope of the American people in receiving it that the Goddess of Liberty and the Goddess of Peace were the same.

The grandfather of my old friend, the French ambassador, and those who helped him make this gift possible, were citizens of a great state republic established on the principle of the democratic form of government. Citizens of all democracies unite in their desire for peace. Grover Cleveland recognized this unity of this spot 70 years ago.

LIGHT OF LIBERTY SHINE TO OTHER NATION'S SHORE

He suggested that liberty enlightening the world would extend her rays from these shores to every other nation.

Today the symbolism should be broadened. To the message of liberty which America sends to all the world must be added her message of peace.

Even in times as troubled and uncertain as these, I still hold to the faith that a better civilization than any we have known is in store for America and by our example, perhaps, for the world. Here destiny seems to have taken a long look into this continental reservoir there has been poured untold and untapped wealth of human resources. Out of that reservoir—out of the melting pot—rich promise gleams which the new world held out to those who came to it from many lands is finding fulfillment.

The richness of the promise has not run out. If we keep the faith for our day as those who came before us kept the faith for theirs, then you and I can smile with confidence into the future.

WE CAN AND WE DO RE-DEDICATE OURSELVES

It is fitting, therefore, that this should be a service of re-dedication to the liberty and the peace which this statue symbolizes. Liberty and peace are living things. In each generation—if they are to be maintained—they must be guarded and vitalized anew.

We have done only a small part of our duty to America when we glory in this statue. Patriotism that stops with that is a too-easy patriotism—a patriotism out of step with the patriots. For each generation the more patriotic part is to carry forward America's places of great romance, peace by making them living facts in a living present.

To that we can, we do, re-dedicate ourselves.

President's Speech At Roosevelt Park

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Following is the text of the speech President Roosevelt delivered at Roosevelt Park today:

I have just come from the ceremonies at the Statue of Liberty. I speak there of the steady stream of human resources which the old world poured on our shores and out of which our American civilization has been built.

Many of the people who came past the Statue of Liberty settled in this section of New York City. Here they move into the pattern of life some of the color and the richness of the cultures from which they came. Here they joined in that great process out of which we have welded an American citizenship.

We gave them freedom. I am proud—America is proud—of what they have given to us. They have never been—they are not now—half-hearted Americans. In Americanization classes and at night schools they have burned the midnight oil in order to be worthy of their new allegiance.

BUILDING PLACE IN IDEALS OF AMERICA.

They were not satisfied merely to find here the realization of the material hopes which had guided them from their native land. They were not satisfied merely to build a material home for themselves and their families.

They were intent also upon building a place for themselves in the ideals of America. They sought an assurance of permanency in the new land for themselves and their children based upon active participation in its civilization and culture.

Those who have come here to understand and appreciate our free institutions and our free opportunity, as well as those who have been here for many generations. The great majority of the new and the old do not confuse the word "liberty" with the word "license." They appreciate that the American standard of freedom does not include the right to do things to hurt their neighbors. All of us—oldsters and newcomers—agree that for the spectator to gamble with and lose the savings of the clients of his bank is just as contrary to American ideals of liberty as it is for the poor man to upset the peddler's cart and steal his wares.

To our newer Americans America is a great discovery. They who have been here so long before rejoice in our freedom. Our liberty is warmed by the fire of their devotion.

I am inclined to think that in some cases the newer citizens have discharged their obligations to us better than we have discharged our obligations to them. For example, their coming helped to intensify the housing problem in many of our great cities. We have not yet worked out an adequate answer to that problem.

TOO LONG NEGLECTED THE HOUSING PROBLEM.

As a matter of fact, we have, for too long, neglected the housing problem for all our lower-income groups. We have spent large sums of money on parks, on highways, on bridges, on museums, and for other projects of civic betterment. For the most part, that was money well spent. But we have not yet begun adequately to spend money in order to help the families in the overcrowded sections of our cities to live as American citizens have a right to live.

You and I will not be content until city, state and federal governments join with private capital in helping every American family to live that way.

We need action to get better city housing. Senator Wagner and I had hoped for a new law at the last session of the congress. We who believe in better housing have not been defeated. I am confident that the next congress will start us on our way with a sound housing policy. We shall certainly get it if on November 3 you vote to send to Washington the kind of government which I am confident you want—a government which will continue to work for security of the home, for security of jobs, for security of savings, and for better homes in every part of the nation.

U. S. TO SURVEY PRISONS. NASHVILLE, Oct. 28.—(P)—Governor McAllister, returning from Washington, said tonight he had received assurance from federal officials that they will start a survey of Tennessee prison industries "as soon as possible."

Youthful Belle Departs Today To Attend V. M. I. Festivities

By Sally Forth.

ONE of Atlanta's most youthful belles has packed her wardrobe into suit cases preparatory to departing elsewhere to attend the series of gaieties that go with college life. Julia Block and her mother, Mrs. Bates Block, leave today for Lexington, Va., where Julia will be numbered among the visiting belles at the Virginia Military Institute festivities. A home-coming party, a dress parade, and a dance on Friday are among the events on Julia's program of exciting entertainment.

When the V. M. I. football squad meets the team from the University of Virginia on the gridiron next Saturday, Julia will carry the red, white and gold banners of the V. M. I. That same evening the Atlanta belle will attend the brilliant dance that will bring the festivities to a close. Julia is the popular golden-haired and blue-eyed daughter of Mrs. Block, and she attends Washington Seminary and belongs to the Phi Pi Club.

Rosemary Townley and Betty McDuffie leave on a wonderful trip at an early date. These blond belles depart the thirteenth of November for one of "The Big Three," Princeton University. Their dates are boys they met last summer while visiting a dude ranch in Buffalo, Wyo. They will attend the Princeton-Dartmouth football game, which is slated to be one of the most exciting games in the east, and during their visit in New Jersey they will stay in one of the attractive inns under the aegis of a chapter.

After this round of college gaieties, the popular young Atlantans will continue to New York, accompanied by Rosemary's sister, Mrs. C. L. Perry, of Miami. There they will take in the latest show hits on the Great White Way, and Gotham's smartest night clubs. Rosemary will renew friendships made on the North Cape cruise she took summer before last, and will have a grand reunion with friends who were her classmates at Ogontz school. Betty, too, has lots of friends in the big city, and the two southern girls will be beautifully entertained during their sojourn in the east.

ATLANTA, and especially Atlanta girls, Sally is very proud to relate, hold a very definite place on the face of the globe. This fact is all the more emphasized in the article appropriately captioned "On the Face of the Globe," which appears in the November issue of Vogue.

The story which appears without benefit of a by-line begins as follows: "If you want to see the world's loveliest girls—go to Ball. No, you're wrong—go to Atlanta, Georgia. No—it's Budapest, that has the corner on beautiful women today. No—again, if you've never seen the Ouled Nails of Nanking, the taffy Valkyries of Sweden, the princesses of Kashmir—you don't know what beauty is."

That Atlanta is the only city in the United States mentioned in the article regarding beauty, which after all depends on where you're born, is especially gratifying and Sally swells with pride. The article goes on to mention the fact that "every race upholds a different ideal—with the signboards of the world spreading their flatteries before you, each one idealizing its own racial type."

There are the succulent Chinese with a California patina; the jaffrow from Holland, round and wholesome as an "Eam cheese; more doll-like than dolls are those placid flowers of Japan; India's mocking brunettes; Greece defied by a blonde in a bathing suit; French girls with their hair for sports; and the Hungarian artfully combining peasant and chic.

Future historians will have no Phidias or Leonardo to study, continues the article, but they will sum up of what the twentieth

Miss Crawford Weds James W. Bracewell At Toccoa Ceremony

TOCCOA, Ga., Oct. 28.—Of prominent social interest throughout Georgia and adjoining states was the wedding of Miss Susan Penelope Crawford, of Toccoa, and James Lemuel Bracewell, of Atlanta, which took place last Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Toccoa First Baptist church. The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion. A selection of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Lou Ella Meaders, of Toccoa, with Miss Patsy Markinson, of Kennesaw, Fla., singing "Perfect Song" and "Be-cause."

Tapers were lighted by Miss Harriet Colley, of Atlanta, and Miss Dorothy Space, of Lakeland, Fla. Groomsmen were Paul Lindsey Jr., Jack N. Noble and Albert Jones, of Atlanta. Misses Lucile Brown, of Atlanta, and Grace Wilson, of Athens, were bridesmaids and Mrs. T. H. Hall, of Atlanta, and Miss Jane Crawford, the bride's sisters, were matron of honor and maid of honor. Betty Ann Sewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Sewell, and Elizabeth Gilmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gilmer, were flower girls. They wore floor-length dresses of pink tulle and carried nosegays of pink roses.

The bridesmaids and candle lighters were gowned in ice blue chiffon and they carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. The matron of honor wore coral pink chiffon velvet and carried a bouquet of pink roses, and the maid of honor was attired in canary yellow chiffon velvet and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The attendants wore close-fitting hats to match their dresses.

The bride entered alone and was met at the altar by the groom and his brother, Joe Bracewell Jr., of Montgomery. The bride's gown was fashioned of white satin and made along princess lines with a train several yards in length. Her veil of illusion tulle reached to the end of the train and was fastened to her hair with a band of princess lace embroidered in red. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

After the ceremony Mrs. N. Crawford, the bride's mother, entertained at a reception. Receiving with Mrs. Crawford were the bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. Hall Bracewell. Mrs. Crawford wore gray crepe with a shoulder spray of orchids. Mrs. Bracewell was attired in black velvet and her shoulder bouquet was formed of pink roses.

Misses Mildred Isbell and Mary Beasley welcomed the guests and Mrs. Joe Bracewell Jr. kept the bride's book. Assistants were Mesdames John Crawford, Roy Perkins, Roy Perkins, Harriet Perkins, Miss Mary Mewborn, Mary Lou Kinsey, Geraldine Meaders, Agnes Leitch, Edith Ann Teasley, Jane Collier, Moody Thomas and Sarah Daddisman.

After the reception the bride and groom left by motor for a tour through Virginia. They will reside at Canton, N. C. The bride traveled in an ensemble of dark green sheer wool trimmed with leopard's fur. Her hat of felt matched her costume.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. A. B. Vickery, Mrs. Ella Vickery, Miss Edna McMillen, Mrs. H. T. Long, Lavonia, Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, Tallulah Falls, Ga.; Miss Florence Goode, Atlanta; Omar Franklin, Valdosta, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brice, Atlanta; Bobby Bracewell, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bracewell Jr., Montgomery, Ala.; Jack Falery, Atlanta; Frank L. Garrett, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Atlanta; Mrs. Lee Yow, Martin; Mrs. Philip Eidson, of Athens.

Debutantes Honored By Miss Dalis.

Miss Christine Thiesen, Emily Smith, Clara Haverly and Betty Gregg, attractive debutantes, were honor guests at a buffet luncheon given yesterday by Miss Epile Dalis at her home on Peachtree road. The table in the dining room was graced with bronze dahlias and daisy chrysanthemums placed in an artistic container and varicolored flowers decorated the house. Miss Ann Phelan Wright, of Rome, cousin of the hostess, assisted in entertaining.

Invited to meet the honor guests were Misses Julia Colquitt, Charlotte Sage, Edith Cora Gantt, Beverly Baker, Emily Evans, Elizabeth L'Engle, Martha de Gollan, Robyn Peoples, Sasa Smith, Katherine Newman, Sage Edith Cora Gantt, Beverly Baker, Nancy Jones, Nell Freeman, Laura Maddox, Annette Hightower, Katherine Gray, Elkin Goodard, Rosemary Manry, Emma Middlebrooks, Dorothy Shivers and Helen Hill Hopkins.

Miss Tait Complimented.

Miss Yvonne Tait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tait, of 30 Mattheson drive, is a student of the distinguished cellist Walter Heermann, at the College of Music of Cincinnati. Miss Tait recently appeared in concert playing with Virginia Long, pianist, of Blackshear, Ga., the Grieg Sonata in A Minor for piano and cello. A music critic of the Cincinnati Enquirer wrote of Miss Tait: "The performance of the Grieg Sonata revealed Yvonne Tait as a cellist who possesses an admirable technique and interpretative insight."

Miss Wolff Weds Mr. Ball At Ceremony in Montgomery

MRS. STEPHEN ADLER BALL.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 28.—The marriage of Miss Evelyn Estelle Wolff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris M. Wolff, of Montgomery, to Stephen Adler Ball, of Selma, Ala., took place here Wednesday evening at a brilliant ceremony at the historic Standard Club. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Eugene Blaschke, of Temple Beth Or, of Montgomery. Only members of the families of the bride and bridegroom witnessed the ceremony.

An altar was improvised of palms, exotic plants making a rich background for the huge sprayed arrangements of gleaming white chrysanthemums, alternately placed with wide-spreading standard candelabra in which burned tall waxen tapers. An aisle led to the altar from the stairway, and this was defined by broad white ribbons and marine, ornamented at intervals by tall baskets of chrysanthemums.

Preceding the ceremony a program of musical offerings was rendered by Mrs. Arthur Beringer and Mrs. Lester Loeb. The bride's junior attendants were Betty Lee Keller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Keller, of Nashville, small niece of the bride, and Miss Betty Regenstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Regenstein, daughter's matron of honor.

The bride entered with her father by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the

Mrs. Grant Appoints Officers and Captains For Peachtree Road Beautification Project

Mrs. John W. Grant, general chairman of the Peachtree Garden Club's roadside beautification, bill board and conservation committee, called a meeting on Tuesday of her committee at her home on Peachtree road. Interest was stimulated in the club's project at a meeting held last Friday when the North Side Forum, with Colquitt Carter as chairman, the Peachtree Garden Club committee and the North Side Press, met at Town Hall at Buckhead in the interest of beautifying Peachtree road.

Addressing the meeting were Mrs. John W. Grant, Dr. Charles L. Adams, chairman of the Board of Fulton County Commissioners; George F. Longino, Fulton county commissioner; Mrs. D. L. Edwards, secretary of county commissioners, and W. Schley Thompson, president of Buckhead City Club.

Property owners on Peachtree road were extended an invitation to attend this enthusiastic civic meeting, and those attending manifested interest in the project. The Buckhead meeting resulted in the Fulton county commissioners agreeing for the county to grade the sidewalks on Peachtree road, from the city limits through Buckhead, and work was started last Monday.

The 75 members of Peachtree Garden Club have pledged their support to the beautification on Peachtree road. Officers and captains appointed for the undertaking are: Mrs. John W. Grant, general chairman; Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, first general chairman; Mrs. Albert Thornton second general chairman; Mrs. Valeria Mauley, roadside beautification chairman; Mrs. J. E. Paulin, vice chairman; Mrs. Evelyn Harris, bill board chairman; Mrs. Henry Newman, conservation chairman, and Miss Edith Harrison, landscape architect for the project.

CRYSTAL . . . the Waterford Type at Its Traditional Best!

The Atlanta Viking Club met last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Stuebing on Columbia drive in Decatur, with Dr. D. L. Anderson, the president, presiding. The house was decorated with flowers and decorations symbolic of Halloween were used. Mrs. Clara L. Edwards, a gifted musician, rendered appropriate music. Mrs. Nell Volpi, noted vocalist, sang, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence L. Edwards at the piano. Professor James F. Watson gave interesting and humorous readings. The program closed by singing "America."

Present were Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Borg, Mrs. Andrew Danielson, Mrs. Clarence L. Edwards, Mrs. H. W. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halleen, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Hallyburton, Miss June Hallyburton, Miss J. A. Jenn Hallyburton, Tommy J. Hallyburton, Fred Hanson, Dr. Arnold Ingemann, Ed Karlson, Mr. and Mrs. John Karlson, Miss Jenny Karlson, Miss Ruth Karlson, John Karlson Jr., Mrs. E. V. Lendren, Dr. Emily Lind, Miss Selma Lindborg, Mr. and Mrs. David Nelson, David Nelson Jr., Mrs. Lena Nitz, Mrs. A. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Ohlhaber, Miss Alva Roberts, Mrs. Ann Schackel, C. A. Stenfelt, L. A. Stuebing, Vernon Stuebing Jr., Mrs. Nell Volpi, Arthur Volpi, Mr. and Mrs. F. Watson, Professor James F. Watson and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Stuebing. The next meeting of the club will be held on November 29 at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Ohlhaber, at 801 Rosedale road.

History Study Club.

History Study Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. F. N. Fairbanks on Josephine street. Mrs. J. R. Dunn, the president, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Walter Pope, who gave a comprehensive review of Italy from early times up to the late World War. Present were Mesdames J. R. Dunn, Walter Pope, P. M. Christian, Spencer Brewer, Albert Callaway, Joe Valdes, John Aiken, F. N. Fairbanks and Lela Brown. The next meeting will be with Mrs. P. M. Christian on November 10.

Phi Delta Sorority Women Voters Membership Drive Gives Dance Friday Has Many Interesting Features

The members of the Gamma Phi Delta sorority will entertain their pledges at a dance Friday evening at Habersham Hall. Members are Mary Bishop, president; Evelyn McLain, vice president; Martha Eunice Dugger, secretary; Betty Grady, treasurer; Anne Burkett, scribe; Virginia Warren, sergeant-at-arms; Evelyn Brannen, Nancy Benton, Sara Brewer, Julia Sewell, Bernice Wolfe, M. Thilda Hanson and Mrs. Virgil Warren.

Pledges are Mary Martin Turner, Melissa Cannafax, Ella Gregg Yarbrough, Mary Jane Paine, Dorothy Bell Brockman, Harriet Wilkie, Margaret Shingler, Alice Nunnally Lois Ewing, Charlotte Babb, Nathalie Whitfield, Ann Cook, Dorothy Brees, Juanita Eubanks, Elizabeth Herrald, Ellen Alexander, Roberta Miner, Patricia Wells and Mildred Timney.

A concentrated membership drive which will end the first week in December has been started by the Atlanta League of Women Voters. Mrs. Logan Blackley Jr. is chairman of the campaign and league board member, and impetus has been added to the drive by the offer of prizes to the individual and the group obtaining the largest number of memberships.

Governor-elect E. D. Rivers has been asked to make the awards at a luncheon the first week in December. The campaign is being pushed by working groups, each headed by a board member. A silver loving cup engraved with the leader's name, will be awarded the winning group, and the individual among the groups who obtains the largest number of new members will be given a magazine subscription of her choice.

Prospective league members are invited to attend a series of teas given each week by board members. Informal talks will be made explaining the work and study courses of the league. Gatherings have been sponsored by Mrs. Philip Jackson and Mrs. Robert Church. Other board members and officers whose groups will sponsor teas are:

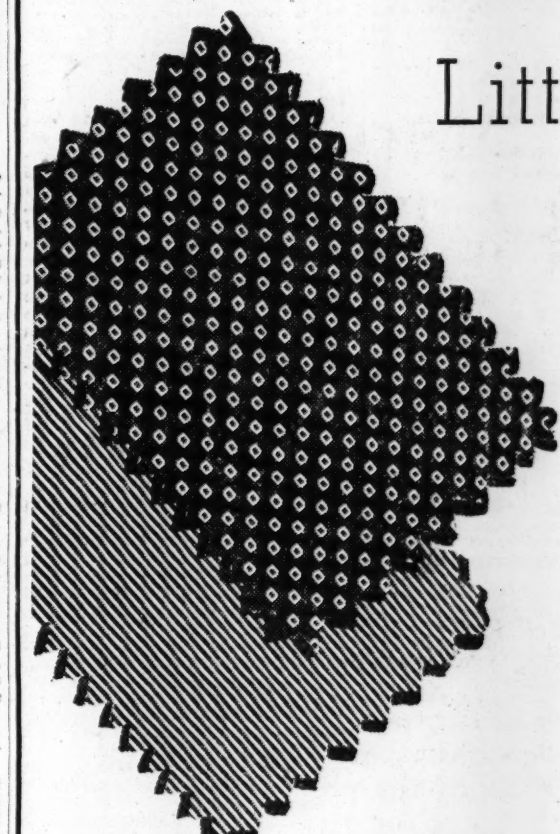

Mesdames Leonard Haas, Logan Blackley Jr., M. L. Brittain, Charles Conklin, Charles Dillingham, J. J. Hollister, Louis Moss, George Murray, Robert Perkins, J. J. Rowland, J. O. Sanders, Calvin Sandison, J. D. Swagerty, H. J. Carson, Bruce Woodruff and Miss Katherine Koch.

On November 4 Mrs. Louis Moss will sponsor a tea at her home on Peachtree road; on November 11 a tea will be given at league headquarters for P. T. A. presidents and citizenship chairmen.

YOUR FIGURE, MADAME

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

EXERCISE FOR BEAUTY. Slimming down without benefit of exercise is a beauty hazard. So don't rush your reducing and lop off calories without regard for your energy requirements. There are limits to calorie cutting—limits that you set by your health and appearance. When you reduce too rapidly, you undergo physiological strains; instead of feeling fit for your slimming program, your vitality is depleted, from severe undernourishment. You may look older.

Although you can lose weight rapidly, skin adjustment is a slow process, and there is nothing you can do to hasten it. In abrupt loss of weight, the skin has no chance to adjust itself to a smooth, lovely coloring. As a consequence, we see many strong-willed women who have brought down their weight by strict diet without any fussing about it—but who show signs of the struggle in the wrinkled, sagging tissues of the face and throat. Exercise aids the skin contraction process and supplies firm, smooth muscle tissue to replace the broken-down fat.

Regardless of your weight, if you want a good complexion, exercise is part of the daily requirement. The skin is fed by the blood stream, and it is particularly important that the reducer, whose system must dispose of increased quantities of waste tissue, have a circulation that is equal to the task. Good circulation, you must remember, nourishes the skin. From the youth and beauty standpoint, it is better to take as much food as you can while reducing in order to keep your energy at a high level, and to get as much exercise as possible to compensate for a generous calorie allowance. Outdoor exercise is the most remunerative, and walking is an easy way of getting into the fresh air and sunshine for at least an hour every day. This is one exercise you can take even when you are tired—and feel well repaid.

It is well to adopt a few simple exercises for the face and throat for the same reason: to break down fatty tissue and dissolve lumps which build muscular tissue and impart beauty of contour. Send for the leaflet, "Facial Gymnastics," which contains a set of carefully designed facial exercises; in the meantime, begin with this exercise:

Place the right hand lightly at the throat-chin line and, without moving the shoulders, turn the head so that the chin points as far as possible over first one shoulder, then the other. While the head is so turned, slowly tense the muscles of the throat and neck, so that you can feel the junction of the chin and throat clumping into a small hollow. Hold for a second.

Mr. and Mrs. Eve Are Complimented.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eve, whose marriage was a recent event, were honored guests Tuesday evening at the informal dinner party given by Mrs. Marian Smith Bell.

Mrs. Eve is the former Miss Patricia Allen, of Buford. Since their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Eve have moved into their apartment on Fourteenth street and are popular additions to the young married coterie.

On Saturday evening the church of the Epiphany will give its 20th annual Halloween party for the children of the parish and their friends at the parish house of the church located at Seminole avenue and Sinclair, N. E., between 7:30 and 10 o'clock. The parents of the children are urged to attend.

Sturdivant's Birthday Passed in Routine Way

Chief T. O. Sturdivant smilingly and briefly said he "felt good for several more years as chief of the Atlanta police force" as he passed his fifty-seventh birthday yesterday. A routine day was passed by the chief who admitted, however, he did celebrate by smoking his pipe while on duty, the first time he had done so in several years.

He was at his desk at the police station at the very hour he spent his anniversary in a quiet manner. Chief Sturdivant was born in Tallapoosa county in 1879, and has been a member of the Atlanta police force since 1909.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TRED FEET

Loose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

and relax slowly. Two times on either side will be enough. This exercise is just as good for scrawny chins as it is for double chins.

If you will take your exercise seriously, you will derive health and beauty.

Walking is an exercise all can take—and be well repaid.

1930-B

CASUAL STREET FROCK WITH A CIRCULAR YOEK.

Who can afford this comfortable and economical frock that takes a swift tubbing and a snappy pressing? And those of you who "just can't sew a stitch" try this pattern. It's simple, easy to follow and a good deal of variety is allowed for, both in fabric and style.

The frock boasts an unusual round yoke (no collar to bother about) which tops a bit of dainty bodice shirring, slopes gently off the shoulders and according to your whim you may add a full sleeve, puff or just a simple line, if you like them that way. Fashioned of a printed cotton, its only trim is buttons, coin pockets and a self fabric or leather belt.

Barbara Bell pattern No. 1930-B is available for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 34 requires 3-5-8 yards of 35-inch material. Price of pattern 15 cents. Do not send stamps.

Send for the full Barbara Bell Pattern Book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from the Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well-cut patterns for the mature figure, afternoon dresses for the most particularly young women and matrons; and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the Barbara Bell Pattern Book. FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers of the Constitution are discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

There is a type of husband that gives his wife everything he can afford except peace of mind. My husband is one of these. He has a little affair with women of whom I cannot be jealous. Why does he do this when he claims he loves me? I have lost my faith in him and am losing my respect for him and when these are gone there is nothing left as far as I can see. I have been the best sort of wife that I know how to be, looking out for my end of the home-making, being a good pal, showing myself ready to take whatever ups and downs come along, satisfied with simple good times and plain fun. I suppose he is a petticoat chaser—worse luck. JAY.

Answer:

There is no worse luck for a wife than to find herself married to a petticoat chaser—a professional charm boy—and no peace of mind for her until old age with its qualms catches up with him. He can't resist the girls and the girls can't resist him; but neither can he resist the pull and tug of the cozy home and the companionship of the wife who is satisfied with simple good times and plain fun. He comes about as near to eating his cake and having it, too, as a human being can. It is a tough break for a woman to love a man who habitually humiliates her and then adds insult to injury by coming home to tell her he loves her. He probably does in his feeble fashion; otherwise he would make off and never come back, for he has no conscience or sense of duty to hold him at home.

And he has his points. He is frequently a gay and pleasant companion, generous with the contents of the pocketbook, quick to give his sorry and ready to promise that he will never be naughty again. The same qualities that make the girls fall for him make his wife fall for him. He's persuasive, he's plausible, he's irresistible.

Life is full of unsolved riddles and this is one that a woman can continue to love a man after he has destroyed her confidence in him and behaved in such a way that she cannot respect him. There is probably more pain than pleasure in her love. Certainly there is no sustaining sense of security and peace of mind for her. Her pride and her vanity are wounded. Her heart is sore but so long as she loves him she continues to hope that the miracle will happen and he will behave as she deserves.

Mrs. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield: It probably is very unusual for you to receive a letter of this sort, but I am just at the end of my string. My married life has become such a load that I have started wondering if I am not wasting my time on some of life's finer things. I am never allowed to go out at night like some of the fellows I know, and I have never complained and have always helped out at home even spending my vacation canning fruit, which, by the way, turned out very nice. Don't you think I ought to have more freedom? I am getting rather bored and would appreciate a prompt answer from you. HEN-PECKED.

Answer:

Brother, freedom is one thing nobody can have without stepping up to take it. The only thing that's necessary in your case is to get your mind free of mama's domination. A woman is funny that way—she will go the full length to get a man down and after she gets him down she ceases to love and respect him. Stop and think what her weapons are: tears and talk—that's all. Then buck up, and try to have that much more freedom and you've had it. But be careful that once loose you don't turn liberty into license and get into trouble worse than you are now in.

My Day

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Tuesday.—One of the most touching election stories that has come to me turned up in the mail yesterday, and I am going to give it to you exactly as it is in the letter.

"Up in the Bronx there is an aged man nearly ninety years old whose health is failing rapidly and who has been told that death is very near. He is so old and ill that the prospect of death does not especially frighten him. Nevertheless, he is hanging on to life with grim determination. Despite the remonstrances of his family he refuses to go to bed for fear that if he should once fall asleep he may never awaken. Instead, he sits in a chair night and day fighting to stay awake. When he drooves he soon shakes himself into wakefulness and in this way keeps going. He insists on doing this. Why? Because he is determined to vote for Mr. Roosevelt before he dies."

Such belief in another human being held by one so near to leaving this world puts a heavy load of responsibility on the man who inspired it. The feeling of the weight of this load has been gradually growing on me ever since we started campaigning and I began to watch the faces of masses of people.

A very nice young newspaperwoman was waiting for me at the entrance to a shop I go to for clothes, when I came out of it this morning. I looked a little surprised and wondered how on earth she knew I was there but was in too much of a hurry to ask. I simply said, "If you have anything you want to ask me, you will have to come right along for I am in a hurry." And we walked toward Sixth Avenue together at a pretty rapid pace.

"My editor," said she, "wants to know if you are going to do any Christmas shopping and what you are going to buy."

I responded sadly that her editor would have to go on wanting to know.

Then she asked where I would be between the moment she saw me and 3 o'clock, when she knew I was to start for Staten Island. I had to answer again that I could not possibly tell her, but that I would be home for lunch.

Being an extremely nice person, however, she left me on the corner with this horrid threat hanging over my head. So far, I have gone on my way unmolested.

It seems to me incredible, that with all the interesting things there are to think about at the present time, one should want to know what I am buying for Christmas presents. Besides, one's Christmas presents are such personal things that even the recipient could hardly be broadcast to the world.

Just now I am on my way off to Staten Island, escorted by Mrs. William H. Good.

Peachtree Garden Club Elects Officers And Names Chairmen

Mrs. Trammell Scott was elected president of the Peachtree Garden Club at the meeting held Monday with Mrs. Henry Newman, and her mother, Mrs. Frank Ellis, co-hostesses; the home of Mrs. Newman in Cherokee road. Elected to serve with her are Mrs. Edgar Paulin again named as first vice president; Miss Nellie Hightower, second vice president; Miss Edith Harrison, recording secretary; Mrs. Michael Hoke, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Phillips McDuffie, treasurer.

Mrs. Paulin presided in the absence of Mrs. Albert Thornton, president. Mrs. Phinix Calhoun talked on "Peachtree Garden," explaining that they could be made things of beauty, and how herbs could be used in salads and soups.

Mrs. John W. Grant, chairman for the beautification of Peachtree road from the creek to Buckhead, reported on the cleaning up and planting of a block. Other garden clubs and civic organizations are participating in this project. Mrs. Robert C. Alston displayed exquisite yellow chrysanthemums grown in her garden.

One of the unique features was an exhibit of flowers blooming out of season, brought by Mesdames Harry Atkinson and Jackson Dick from their home, "Mayfair," including geraniums, Persian lilacs, forsythia, spirea, magnolia, dogwood and crab apple.

Mrs. Malcolm Fleming urged organizations not to patronize the vendors of holly and mistletoe during the holidays, because these valuable evergreens are still sold, and because owners have a right to pull and sell their evergreens. She advocated the tagging of these, so that purchasers may know what they are buying, its origin, and that the vendors have a right to sell.

The rooms and tea table were decorated with single white dahlias, daisies, and other flowers. The committee for new officers in the club, Mrs. Albert Thornton, chairman of the board; Mrs. S. M. Inman, parliamentary; Mrs. Roby Robinson, visiting gardens; Mrs. William Nixon, printing; Mrs. William Minnich, greens exhibit; general chairman of roadside billboards and conservation, Mrs. John W. "ATLANTA'S WHO'S WHO IN THE ZODIAC."

MRS. LOUIS M. COLLINS.

September 26 marks the natal day of Mrs. Louis M. Collins, one of Atlanta's most charming and popular young matrons.

This brings her birth date under the influence of the Zodiacal sign Libra, the sign of fair judgment, generosity, self-reliance, intuition. The sun in this sign shows one keen-minded and discriminating.

The Sun-Mercury position gives a position of memory and concentration. The Sun-Jupiter position gives a position of great adaptability, quick comprehension, the power to respond to the mental requirements of the situation.

The Moon-Mars position gives a love for travel and learning. The Moon-Mercury position creates a love of harmony in all things, environment as well as tastes.

The Moon-Venus aspect bespeaks a warmly human person. The Sun-Saturn position gives perseverance, tact and self-control. It bespeaks one who will be conservative. This aspect shows that she has initiative and that she accepts and lives up to life's responsibilities.

This chart shows one who will never do anything half-heartedly, but pours into every project all her power, vitality and enthusiasm.

You can get your complete astrological forecast through The Atlanta Constitution, compiled by Bernice Denton Pierston, one of America's best-known astrologers.

All you have to do is to fill in the coupon below, inclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, together with 10 cents in coin to cover the mailing cost. Junior League Field Representative Will Arrive in Atlanta Today

Miss Lettie Witherspoon, national field representative of the Association of Junior Leagues, arrives in Atlanta Thursday evening to conduct an orientation course in welfare and community work for the provisional members of the Atlanta Junior League.

Miss Witherspoon, a former Atlanta resident, is a member of the Junior League of New York and has been field representative of the national association for the past four years, aiding Junior Leagues in all sections of the country in increasing the efficiency of volunteer service and the projects which they sponsor locally. A graduate of Smith College, she received her training at the New York School of Social Work and for several years was a case worker in the Family Service Organization of Louisville, Ky., and a member of the social service staff of the Louisville and Jefferson County Children's Home.

In addition to conducting the orientation course, Miss Witherspoon will consult with members of the board in completing arrangements for the demonstration project in parent guidance, which the Atlanta league is undertaking this year in cooperation with the Family Welfare Society. The project, which has received high endorsement from national headquarters, includes the employment of a full time psychiatric worker and provides a service in family adjustment not hitherto offered in Atlanta except on a very limited scale.

During her stay in Atlanta Miss Witherspoon will be entertained at several informal affairs. Mrs. W. Colquhoun Carter will entertain at luncheon Monday at 1 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club in her honor and on Tuesday, Miss Witherspoon will give a luncheon at her home on Habersham road to which members of the Junior League board have been invited.

Miss Janette Lane Becomes Bride Of Mr. Bradbury at Church Rites

Of cordial interest to hosts of friends throughout the south was the marriage of Miss Janette Lane to A. Thomas Bradbury, which was solemnized at an impressive ceremony on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Covenant Presbyterian church, with Dr. Herman L. Turner, pastor, officiating.

The choir loft was banked with cymbois fern and palms, and along the choir rail three seven-branched candelabra held unshaded tapers. The pulpit was centered with a mound of Easter lilies placed in front of the lower, candelabra, which was garlanded with ropes of asparagus fern. Palms formed the background for the altar, in front of which was a seven-branched candelabra with clusters of Easter lilies tied at the base. At the foot of the steps leading to the altar, was a vase filled with lilies, and on each side of the choir stalls palms were grouped in effective arrangement, and seven-branched candelabra held unshaded tapers. Family pews were tied with white satin ribbon, and several rows were reserved for members of the bride's local society, Lota Tau Tau.

Preceding and during the ceremony a musical program was played by Miss Minnie McNeal Carr, of Birmingham, a close friend of the groom. Vocal renditions were given by Mrs. R. Frank Ashurst, a sorority sister of the bride, and Vernon E. Noah, a close friend of the groom.

Groomsmen were Thomas Lane, Wallace Hicks, Boyce Graham, Bernard Loden, Ralph Morzan, Robert K. Vickery and Dr. Irwin T. Hyatt. The bride's attendants were Mrs. Robert K. Vickery, Miss Esther Harris, Mrs. Ernest Miles, Mrs. Walter Sheffield, Mrs. Bernard Loden and Mrs. Kimbrough O'Neal. Mrs. Irwin T. Hyatt, a sorority sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Antoinette Brown, maid of honor.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in models of light blue velvet, made floor length, with close fitting lines flaring at the knees, and fashioned with a slight train. The empire waistline was tucked onto a pointed decollete, fastening with rhinestone ornaments, and finished with Mary Queen of Scots collar. The short sleeves fell in soft folds, forming a slight puff at the shoulder. Their slippers were silver and their bouquets were of yellow and white roses and yellow snapdragons, tied with wide yellow satin ribbons.

Beautiful Bride. The bride entered with her brother, Harold H. Lane, by whom she was given in marriage, and they were met at the church by the groom and his best man, Frank Sells. The bride's piquant brunet loveliness was enhanced by her wedding gown of an off-white shade of soft velvet, made along princess lines. The gown featured a high cowl neckline, and the sleeves were full to the elbow where they were fitted to a high, tight cuff which extended to a point over the hands. The skirt was trimmed with rows of tiny velvet-covered buttons. The skirt was molded close to the figure to the knees, where it fell in graceful folds and extended in a long court train introduced at the waistline in the back. Tiny velvet-covered buttons outlined the back of the waistline.

Her veil of misty tulle, in the same shade of off-white, was loaned by Mrs. B. E. Bell, a life-long friend of the bride's mother. The veil was worn originally by Mrs. Bell's daughter, the former Miss Martha Bell, now Mrs. Harold S. White, of Christobel, Cal. Zone. The veil was made of fine tulle or lengths, two of which extended beyond the court train of the gown, the next extending to the knees, and the fourth fell just below the shoulder. It was worn cap shaped, far back on the bride's head, and caught at the back of the neck with a row of orange blossoms, tying around the neck in front with a narrow satin ribbon.

The bride's bouquet was of white roses and valley lilies showered with valley lilies and white satin streamers and tied with white satin ribbon. She carried a real lace handkerchief, handkerchiefs in Brussels, which had been carried by her mother of honor, the former Sophia Horne, when she became the bride of Dr. Irwin T. Hyatt. Mrs. Hyatt's mother, Mrs. William H. Horne, purchased the handkerchief 35 years ago, when she was in Belgium, and she also carried it as Helen Chapman in her own wedding.

Mrs. Lane, mother of the bride, was gowned in Dubonnet velvet with a shoulder corsage of tulle and roses and valley lilies, tied with pink ribbon. Mrs. A. Thomas Bradbury, mother of the bridegroom, wore blue satin, and her flowers were pink roses and valley lilies, tied with pink ribbon. After the ceremony Mrs. Lane was hostess at a reception at her home on Lafayette drive, in Ansley Park, guests including the members of the bride's party, members of both families, out-of-town guests and a few close friends. Receiving with the bride party and the hostess was Mrs. A. Thomas Bradbury, mother of the bridegroom, and a few close friends. Receiving with the bride party and the hostess was Mrs. A. Thomas Bradbury, mother of the bridegroom, and a few close friends.

Wedding Journey. Mr. Bradbury and his bride left by motor for an extended wedding trip to Florida and Cuba and other points. The bride wore for traveling a gray sheer wool suit, trimmed with gray Persian, and a smart close-fitting felt hat. Her accessories were also of gray and her corsage was of tulle and roses.

Ewing—Marks.

A marriage of interest to their friends was that of Miss Jeanette Ewing to Chester D. Marks, which took place Wednesday at the home of Dr. M. A. Cooper, pastor of the West End Baptist church, who officiated.

The bride, the only daughter of Mrs. El Dorado Ewing, is a graduate of Girls' High school and attended the University of Georgia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Marks, and is connected with The Constitution composing room.

The couple will reside after November 1 at 604 Holmden street, southwest.

Halloween Party.

The Home Makers' Class of Moreland Avenue Baptist church will have a Halloween party Friday at 8 o'clock in the classroom. Each member will take a pound per person and games will be played.

Mr. William Alexander, of those Techs, was doing things to a Cajun-style bowl of shrimp gumbo.

Between spoonfuls he said: "L. S. U. is going to have a difficult time in Nashville. Vanderbilt is a better team than anyone thought. And larger. I guess they must have out-weighted us 20 pounds. It's the biggest team in the conference and there is a lot of good football material there."

"If they are steamed up against L. S. U. and play and tackle as hard as they did against us, then L. S. U. will have some trouble."

Mr. Mack Tharpe, the line coach, who also was spooning up some gumbo, paused to remark:

"The only two times I ever saw this 1936 Vanderbilt team was against Chicago and Tech. They looked like a real football team each time."

"Did you notice the story of the Arkansas-L. S. U. game?" asked Mr. Alexander, putting a little more rice into his gumbo.

"Arkansas completed 16 passes out of 33 tried for more than 200 yards. I'd say Vanderbilt had a pass attack that good. Maybe better. And with Sam and Joe Agee in there, they have a running game that will give trouble. Offhand, I'd think all this meant trouble for Bernie Moore. It should be quite a ball game. L. S. U. has power. Lots of it. More of it, I guess, than any other team."

"But in this game they go up against a team as large and one which has an air game and a running game. It would not surprise me to see Vanderbilt hold them."

Whereupon we all spooned vigorously, because this was a startling idea. L. S. U. squeezed out the Vanderbilt game last year by five points, winning 7 to 2. It might be an upset this year.

HOPE AT GEORGIA.

There is hope for an upset over at Athens. In fact, one can hardly get around the streets without bumping into it.

Georgia has a chance to win from Tennessee on Saturday. The great hope is the team, which played good football all the way against Rice and for one-half against Auburn, will put them all together on Saturday.

The general idea is that Tennessee reached a peak against Duke, playing over their collective heads, and will be let down this week.

The idea is comforting to the Georgia people and may be a true one. But this should be kept in mind—Tennessee hasn't played a bad game this year. The team outplayed North Carolina and lost. It played a fine game and lost to Auburn by a lone, late touchdown. It tied Alabama. And beat Duke. It isn't a team which has been up and down, like an elevator.

Its defense has been very sound, especially against passes, which must be Georgia's chief asset. It has a sound offense, a good kicking game and all the backs, injured in earlier games, will be ready for this one. Which is just Georgia's luck.

On the other hand, there is the undeniable fact that Coach Bob Neyland always has had trouble getting his team ready the

BADGETT, SOPH, WINS HIS PLACE AT RIGHT TACKLE

Coach Mehre Orders Full Steam Ahead for His 'November Team.'

By Felton Gordon.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 28.—Showing of Bill Badgett, 225-pound tackle, Knoxville, Tenn., as a starter in the past two games resulted today in John (Stogie) Davis being shifted to left tackle to "bottle it out" with Tommy Haygood as Georgia finished defensive work for the week.

Simultaneously, Foster Milton, who has been impressive since his promotion from the Red Devil ranks, was moved to right tackle to back up Badgett. The powerful Badgett, a sophomore this season, was looking unusually good this afternoon on defense. He has reduced from around 240 to 226 pounds and is in perfect condition.

Coach Mehre ordered full steam ahead, jestingly saying, "They say it's a November team, so we'd better get busy." He has said that the Bulldogs can down Tennessee, but insists that it will take unusually good playing. A three-hour practice on offense is slated for Thursday since no time has been spent on offense since the machine-gunning of the entire week. Pass defense will be the only defensive measures for the afternoon. A harder drill than usual is planned Friday. An hour lecture preceded today's workout and the drill went into the darkness. Another lecture session was held to-night.

SKIRMISH SATISFACTORY.
The skirmish with the Red Devils who ran Tennessee plays was satisfactory. Pete Tinsley turned in a good afternoon at right guard, considering the fact that it was his first try at the post since last fall. Carroll Thomas and Otis Maffett were rushing the passers for consistent losses. During the first Tennessee plays the red-shirted outfit suffered a total loss of some 15 or 20 yards.

Two or three passes were completed during the rest of the drill to net some 10 yards. Never did the defense break away.

The offensive work Thursday is expected to draw considerable attention. Athletic Director H. J. Stegeman, who saw the Vols in the Alabama game, said he believes that the repelling wall will be the best that the Bulldogs will face during the last half of the schedule.

"I now rate it more tenuous than the Plainsman line," he continued.

THE FIRST LINEUP.
The first lineup today follows: Maffett and Thomas, ends; Badgett and Davis, tackles; Harman and Troutman, guards; Lumpkin, center; Young, quarterback; Cavan and Causey, halfbacks; and Green, fullback.

A gala week-end is being planned. Harold Stern's orchestra will play for the homecoming dances. A crowd of some 15,000 persons, including many alumni, are expected to attend the game. Sanford stadium's face has been washed this week. Professor R. T. Dottery had his 70-piece band rehearsing on the field this afternoon. Reserved seats for the game sell for $2.50, while general admission tickets will go for $1.50. Game time is 3 o'clock, eastern standard time.

Neyland Warns Of Overconfidence.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—(AP) Coach Bob Neyland, of Tennessee, warned his squad today against overconfidence for the Georgia game Saturday.

"I'm afraid our boys are going into the game smiling too much and they are going to get into a bunch of wildcat games as mad as hornets," he said.

While Tennessee's offense clicked in defeating Duke, 15 to 13 last week, Neyland said he was far from satisfied and is spending most of this week on offensive work.

N. Y. Ring Commish Ignores Armstrong

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The New York state athletic commission today declined to recognize Henry Armstrong, Los Angeles negro, as new featherweight champion.

The commission pointed out that Armstrong's bout with Mike Belloc in Los Angeles last night was not over the championship distance of 15 rounds and that, therefore, Belloc still was recognized as champion. Armstrong won a close decision over the New Yorker in ten rounds.

Pete Sarcon, of Birmingham, Ala., is pegged as 128-pound titleholder by the National Boxing Association.

Lipps, Brown Lose Bouts on Decisions

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Unknown Winston, 192, of Holyoke, Mass., gained a slim decision in ten rounds over youthful Joe Lipps, 182, of Ty Ty, Ga., in the windup of a boxing show here tonight.

Carmen Vitello, 160, of Philadelphia, defeated Ben Brown, 154, also of Atlanta, in the eight-round semi-windup.

AUBURN LABORS AT LOS ANGELES FOR 'FRISCO TILT

Joel Eaves in Uniform; Meagher Wants Tougher 1937 Card.

EN ROUTE WITH AUBURN TO SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A stiff workout in Los Angeles today ended hard practice sessions for the Auburn Plainsmen, preparing for their clash with the undefeated Santa Clara Broncos in San Francisco Saturday.

Joel Eaves, star end, was back in uniform but sparring most of the rough work. He is expected to start Saturday, however, and all of the regulars with the exception of Joe Stewart, quarterback, will be in good condition.

Coach Jack Meagher has been holding daily conferences with his centers and quarterbacks, devising a defensive scheme for use Saturday.

Santa Clara's weight charts, studied by the Auburn coaching staff, brought little to cheer about. The Broncos' starting lineup will average 195 pounds in the line and 188 in the backfield, against Auburn's 181 and 165.

Meagher has taken time out from his coaching duties to express a desire for an even tougher schedule for the Plainsmen in 1937. He has contracts for games with Birmingham-Southern, Tulane, Georgia Tech, L. S. U., Georgia and Florida, and hopes to land engagements with Rice, Detroit, Tennessee and Mississippi State.

KIWANIS, ROTARY TO MEET TODAY

The annual Kiwanis-Rotary golf tournament will be held this afternoon at the Capital City Country Club when 20 members of the Kiwanis will be matched up against the same number of Rotarians in foursomes.

The matches will be played on the Nassau basis with nine points to each foursome.

The golfers will all meet at 12 o'clock at Brookhaven and luncheon will be served by the club after which the golf matches will be played and the losers will pay for the lunch.

A blind bogey tournament will also be held by all players naming their handicaps and donating a ball to the fortunate winners. The following foursomes have been matched and are ready to start five minutes apart beginning promptly at 12:45 o'clock:

Tiger Captain and Passer

Pony Backs To Run For Jackets Saturday

Scrappy Edwards and Jimmy Moore Will Be Given Chance Against Clemson Tigers.

By Jack Troy.

Tech is expected to turn a couple of colts into the pasture to trot against the Clemson Tigers Saturday afternoon at Grant field.

They're Scrappy Edwards and Jimmy Moore, who remind you, somehow, of the ponies.

Both are small, compactly built backs. They're fast and shifty. Sprung into a broken field, they kick up their heels and really gallop.

Edwards, the Macon Mauler, and Moore, the Atlanta Mortar, are really twin siege guns. Edwards has had more chance to run than Moore this season.

But Saturday they're both expected to be turned loose against the enemy, with the goal line as their objective.

BOTH PREPARED.
In scrapping a situation, Edwards have been turned loose offensively and have done the best running. They have run so much with the ball that the logical conclusion is they are being prepared to carry the mail on Saturday.

The Clemson team, preparing a strong defense along with a potent running and passing attack, is expected to give the Jackets a real tussle.

The Jackets are laying the foundation for a versatile running attack and a tricky passing game of their own. The indications are it will be a sort of wide open contest. It will lean to the spectacular, with both teams striking through the air when least expected.

JACKETS IN SPOT.
The Jackets are in a situation. They can't spend any time preparing for the Auburn game Saturday week because of the great improvement shown by the Clemson squad, which is big and versatile and capable of springing a surprise.

FORDHAM SEES CHANCE TO WIN WITH AIR GAME

Ram Students See Pitt as Lone Obstacle to Rose Bowl.

By Jack Cuddy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—(UP)—Golden light from an ebbing sun slanted across Fordham's practice field and cast long shadows where husky youngsters in maroon and saffron football logs charged endlessly at imaginary foes in signal drill.

(Sleepy) Jim Crowley, in grid regalia, stood near the 50-yard stripe supervising preparations for Saturday's big game at the Polo grounds with Pittsburgh. The hood of a maroon parka protected his head from late October's chill.

"I believe our best chance against Pittsburgh is through the air," the Rams' coach said, without shifting his eyes from the field. "Hugh Devore, our freshman coach, who's coached Pitt in the Duquesne and Notre Dame games, says they are very strong against 'the stat,' with a grin of satisfaction. Were the Rams the strongest defensive team he had ever seen or coached? Crowley gazed thoughtfully through his half-closed semi-oriental eyes at his men on the field and said, 'Yes, I guess they are. I don't think I ever saw a stronger defensive team.'"

The drowsy driver of the Rams added, "You know we haven't had a touchdown scored against us this season by a major team. Neither Southern Methodist nor St. Mary's could do it. Two other teams did it: Franklin-Marshall and Wayneburg. But they did it when I had in third-string players. Yes, we've certainly got a good line. Oh—I'd say it averages about 193 pounds."

GO AWAY!
Did Coach Crowley have any visions of a trip to the Rose Bowl? "Now, now! Don't start putting the jinx on me," he said, shaking away. "You'll have to ask Jack Coffey about that. I'm just trying to figure out how to beat Pittsburgh."

Coffey is Fordham's silver-haired graduate manager and coach and went to see him. He disclaimed any Rose Bowl ambitions for the Rams, but his eyes sparkled as he admitted that Fordham certainly would be delighted if the team could go through the season undefeated and get an invitation to the New Year's classic in Pasadena.

Coffey said a Rose Bowl trip would be a splendid prize for the team and for Coach Crowley. This is Crowley's fourth year at Fordham. He came to the Rams from Michigan State before that he was backfield coach for four years at Georgia.

It was hoped he'd be ready for the Auburn game, but it looks now that it will not be before the Alabama game, if then. Which is somewhat of a setback.

The Clemson Tigers will work out at home today and leave for Atlanta early Friday. They'll take their final workout on Grant field Friday afternoon.

MONROE MEETS SAVANNAH TEAM

MONROE, Ga., Oct. 28.—Red Barron's Monroe Aggies will seek their second G. I. A. victory Friday night when they meet the Benedictine Academy Cadets in Savannah.

The Monroe team has won games over Eastonville and Richmond. They have tied with Gordon and dropped a 6-0 decision to Boys' High school.

Both foes for Friday night outclassed their respective opponents in every department last Saturday. Monroe's varsity played only one quarter as the reserves held the Richmond eleven in their own territory for the remaining three quarters. The score of the game was 14-0. Benedictine defeated Carlisle, S. C., Academy, 20-0.

GRANT PARK WINS.

The Grant Park Buzzards defeated the Boulevard Ramblers, 15 to 0, Wednesday afternoon at Grant Park. Moore and Osley were outstanding for Grant Park, while McGee and Jackson played best for the losers.

VARSITY WORKS A SHORT WHILE AGAINST 'BEES'

Jackets Hope Red Collins Will Be Recovered for Alabama Game.

By Jack Troy.

A few of those "Berry to McConnell" passes were completed by the freshmen against the Tech reserves yesterday afternoon at the Rose Bowl. This is, it seems, develop-the-reserve week at the Rose Bowl.

Varsity players scrimmaged for only a short time against the Bee team. It was a punting scrimmage, with the Bees kicking and the varsity safety man hauling 'em back. Jimmy Moore and Scrappy Edwards alternated at the safety position.

NOT GETTING DISTANCE.
Coach Alex became rather perturbed over the fact that the Bee kickers were not getting any distance. They were kicking short, rolling punts that gave the safety little opportunity to run.

And so Coach Alex, adopting the role of human bomb for the second straight day, sizzled and sputtered and almost exploded.

"We are not going to rush you," said Coach Alex in no uncertain terms to the Bee kicker. "All you have to do is stand back there and kick the ball. Get it high and down here, where the safety man can get some practice. Can't you do that, please?"

The kicks were a bit better thereafter and Edwards and Moore got to do some fancy punt returning, with the protecting backs offering some excellent blocking.

There was scrimmaging the rest of the afternoon, with the reserves working offensively and defensively against the freshmen.

"BERRY TO MCCONNELL"
The freshmen ran Clemson plays and even a few of those "Berry to McConnell" passes for a substantial gain.

McPherson and Spessard made a few nice gains on off-tackle smashes and through the middle.

When the varsity reserves went on offense, Moore and Edwards were a pair of wild horses of the Osage, or something.

They're both rather short in stature and when they sweep end behind their interference, it's rather hard for the opposing ends and side backs to find them. Consequently, Moore and Edwards were off to the races no few times.

Tech is not planning to use a reserve team against Clemson Saturday. But Moore and Edwards, the latter generally regarded as a first stringer, will be turned loose from the start.

NEED MORE WORK.
There are some other players like Morgan, Smith and Allen, ends; Chance and Furr, tackles; Brooks and Wilcox and Rimmer, guards; and Sims and Chivington, centers, who need some work under fire.

And so they'll be used. But it will not necessarily be a "second team." Tech really has no second team. Just a number of different combinations, as it were.

Junior Anderson and Ernest Tharpe are other reserve backs who will get into the thick of things Saturday.

There is a bit of speculation as to the early recovery of Red Collins, blocking back. No one really can tell about a knee injury of this sort. It's what is known as an "inside lateral" knee injury.

BACK FOR 'BAMA.
Collins may recover in time for the game against Auburn. Then, on the other hand, he may not be ready before the Georgia game, if then. It's all a matter of pure guess work to say that he will not play again this season.

The Clemson Tigers, who were injured in the Duke game, have been particularly tough. Collins would have made a big difference in the Vandy game, chances are. Working with Beard, he would have been a big help both in blocking and backing up the line.

It was hoped he'd be ready for the Auburn game, but it looks now that it will not be before the Alabama game, if then. Which is somewhat of a setback.

Boys' High Tattles Gordon Institute at Ball Park Tonight

PURPLES FACING TOUGH OPPONENT IN BUTLER TEAM

Five Atlanta Boys on Visiting Club; Big Crowd Seen.

By Roy White.

Boys' High school, undefeated in the past 30 games, will step out of its class at 8 o'clock tonight at Ponce de Leon park to play Gordon Institute, from Barnsville, one of the better junior college teams of the state.

No championship is at stake or involved since Gordon is not a member of the Georgia Interscholastic Athletic Association, but recognized as one of the outstanding junior college teams in the state.

Gordon Institute had one of its most impressive records until last Saturday afternoon when the Tech B team defeated the Barnsville eleven, 39 to 0. Coach Butler's team did not look so well in the Saturday game. Its blocking was anything but good and the tackling was nothing spectacular.

TIE MONROE.

Gordon started off with a scoreless tie against Monroe Aggies, defeated Brewster-Parker and Middle Georgia Junior College easily and then ran into a tough Tech B team last Saturday afternoon.

Boys' High holds victories over Commercial, Kinsley, Savannah, Decatur and Monroe Aggies and was held to a 6-0 tie last Friday night by Lanier High. Only Ensey and Lanier High have been able to score on Boys' High this season, while only the Tech B team has scored on Gordon.

The only basis for comparison is that both teams have played Monroe Aggies. Gordon played the Aggies to a scoreless tie on the Monroe field and Boys' High defeated the same Monroe team, 6 to 0, at Ponce de Leon park.

Tonight's game will be somewhat of a family affair for Dickie Butler, Gordon's coach was coach of the Boys' High football team two years ago and did a swell job of it.

Five Atlanta boys, Harry Mount, all-southern tackle; Tom Cumbe, quarterback; and Billy Massengale, halfback, all played under Butler at Boys' High, before going to Gordon. Tommy Gantt, a former Decatur fullback and a great punter, and Jack Hitt, all-Georgia halfback from Marietta, are members of Gordon's team and will start the game tonight.

Boys' High athletic department Wednesday filled a request for a block of 500 tickets for Barnsville fans. And from reports from Barnsville, more than 750 Gordon supporters and fans will be present.

TECH LINEUPS.

Boys' High: (1) Clark, (2) Brown, (3) Smith, (4) Evans, (5) Evans, (6) Evans, (7) Evans, (8) Evans, (9) Evans, (10) Evans, (11) Evans.

Williamson's Predictions

Williamson's System calls for an Auburn victory over Santa Clara at San Francisco Saturday. The Tigers of the south have a rating of 92.8 as compared with 85.7 held by the Broncos.

Marquette over St. Mary's, says Williamson, whose table gives a 91.7 percentage against 85 of the Gaels.

Tech holds a big margin over Clemson and Tennessee has a substantial edge over Georgia.

Pittsburgh's rating of 93.4 indicates a triumph for the Panthers over the Battering Rams.
